Overseas Expert Column by Dick Powell

This race will start on the backstretch and go around three turns. The race will be won on the third turn as runners have to make their move before they hit the homestretch.

MINNIE HAUK has had a sensational season of racing with four wins in a row including three group one wins at this distance. Her best race might have been in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe when she was a game second and far ahead of the rest of the field on soft ground. Christophe Soumillon can ride her any way he wants and the daughter of FRANKEL has shown she will prosper on firmer ground.

Brian Meehan has pulled off a few shocks in the Breeders' Cup and he might do it again with the 3YO RASHABAR. He was an excellent juvenile last season but hasn't really improved as expected this season. Live at a price, this is his first try at the distance but he has enough pace to handle the firm ground going around three turns. By HOLY ROMAN EMPEROR, he gets more than enough stamina from his dam who is by the stout CAMELOT. He's a must use in the exotic bets.

Godolphin has two in here and how many times have we seen the alleged lesser half of the duo outrun his more fancied stablemate. EL CORDOBES has the advantage of a win in the G1 Sword Dancer Stakes which was run around three turns at Saratoga on firm ground so he's proven at today's conditions.

REBEL'S ROMANCE has won this race twice already and looks to make history. As he ages, he has more pace and his perfect trip is to start his kick early. He should have the lead late in the race but can he hold off the rest at the age of seven?

GOLD PHOENIX looks to be the best of the local runners. He was no match for REBEL'S ROMANCE last year but that was from post 12. He would be better suited to 2000m but he loves this turf course.

SILAWI likes to lead and he can get to the front and lead this field. RASHABAR also has speed and he can share the lead. GOLIATH from the inside draw can get into the trail. REBEL'S ROMANCE and MINNIE HAUK should settle midfield.

Overseas Expert Column by Dick Powell

The shocking news that heavy favorite SOVEREIGNTY has a fever and had to be scratched out of the G1 Breeders' Cup Classic caught everyone by surprise. The only positive about it is that it is now a wide-open race.

FOREVER YOUNG is an international superstar that has run in all the big races on dirt. He was a good third in last year's Breeders' Cup Classic when he raced too close to a fast pace but he still ran on strongly after getting off the rail. His win in this year's G1 Saudi Cup was legendary and he showed the impact of that effort with a dull third in the G1 Dubai World Cup. Freshened up, he won his prep race in Japan and is back for another try with, hopefully, different tactics than last year.

FIERCENESS was a terrific second here last year after being part of a demanding pace. He had a poor race over 1800m two starts back at Saratoga but bounced back with a romp in the G1 Pacific Classic Stakes. He's been trained up to the race at Saratoga under perfect conditions and I was really impressed with his workout on 17th October which he did on his own. Post one could be a problem but John Velazquez will be better prepared for the start and make sure he does not duck in like he did in the Pacific Classic Stakes.

BAEZA was a good third in the G1 Kentucky Derby and he did it from post 19. His only poor race was the Belmont but was only beaten a length in the G2 Jim Dandy Stakes and was much more mature when he won the G1 Pennsylvania Derby. If he can improve off that race, the gap between him and his other classmates will narrow and put him into the mix here. From post two, he can save ground on the first turn behind the pace and look for running room on the far turn. This time of year, it is rare for a horse to improve but he definitely can hold his form while others might not.

SIERRA LEONE is the defending champion but not getting the respect you would think. He lost his first two starts of the season then won the G1 Whitney Stakes over 1800m. He lost all chance, but ran remarkably well, when he had to jump over a fallen jockey Irad Ortiz, Jr. at the start of the G1 Jockey Club Gold Cup Stakes. There's nothing not to like about him but he's always been the type of horse that needs favorable circumstances to run his best.

MINDFRAME won his first two career starts by wide margins and should have won last year's G1 Belmont Stakes if he didn't lose focus in the deep stretch. He ran about the same race in the G1 Haskell Stakes and then went on the shelf for almost eight months. He returned with three straight wins including two G1 stakes. In the G1 Jockey Club Gold Cup Stakes, he was crowded soon after the start and jockey Irad Ortiz, Jr. was dislodged. He has trained hard for this and should be a major factor if he can have an uneventful trip.

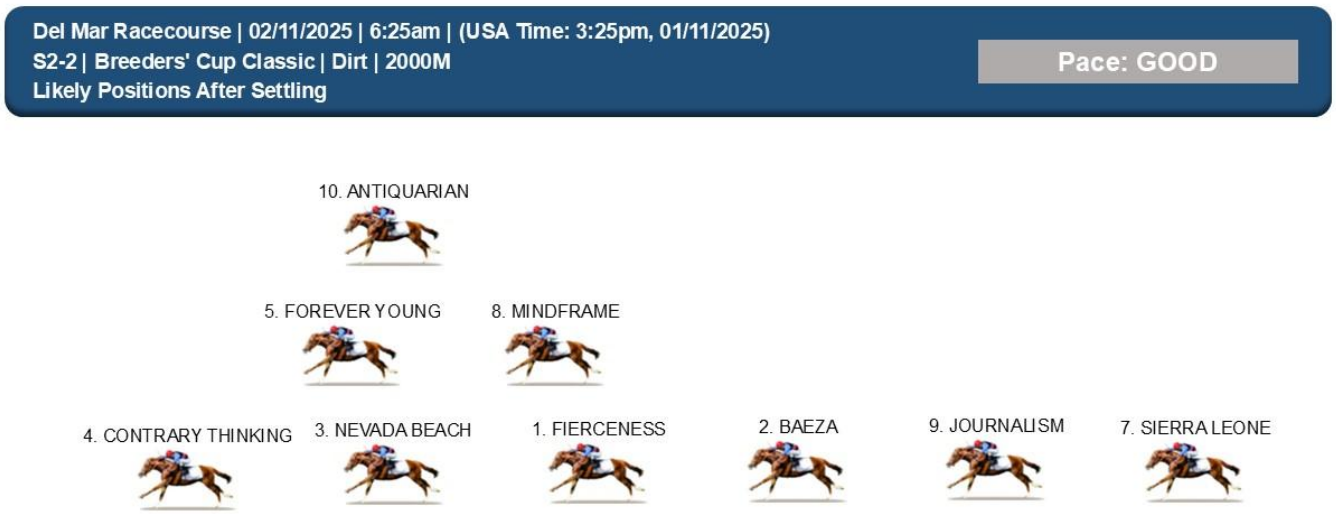
Speedmap



CONTRARY THINKING is the logical leader in this race and he can take the early lead. NEVADA BEACH from the low draw can get into the trail. FOREVER YOUNG has speed and will not be far away. FIERCENESS should have a good run along the rail. SIERRA LEONE should be at rear.

A dual G1 winner at Churchill Downs this year but hampered and unseated his rider early at Saratoga, an unfortunate trial for this.

Overseas Expert Column by Dick Powell

Thirteen horses going a two-turn mile on the Del Mar turf course is always eventful. I don't see a lot of early speed in this field so there might be a lot of bunching. Horses that find themselves on the inside will need an explosive kick if there is a sliver of room. Wide and clear could be the winning path.

It seems every time I look up, trainer Andrew Balding is winning a major race around the world. Besides 16 group one stakes wins in Great Britain, he has won them in Australia, Canada, Hong Kong and Dubai. JONQUIL will try to add America to the list and the 3YO son of LOPE DE VEGA has a big shot in here. In his first try at a mile, he was a head behind HENRI MATISSE, winner of last year's G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf, in the G1 French 2000 Guineas. Off the board in his next two starts going shorter, he won the G2 Celebration Mile Stakes at Goodwood on good ground then was a close fourth at Keeneland from post 11. He doesn't draw much better here but can win this at a decent price.

NOTABLE SPEECH will be the logical favorite after just missing in this race last year as the favorite. He was a close second in the G1 Prix Jacques le Marois then came back and won the G1 Woodbine Mile Stakes with a relentless kick. He might get there in time this year but as we saw last year, this track is much tighter than Woodbine and most of his races at this distance in Europe were down the straightaway.

SAHLAN was a sharp winner in France last out against a strong field and draws perfectly with Mickael Barzalona. 3YO son of the late WOOTTON BASSETT is fresh and dangerous as his trainer Francis-Henri Graffard looks for his first Breeders' Cup win.

FORMIDABLE MAN might not be as good as his international rivals but he's the king of the Del Mar turf course with six wins in six starts. He can run up near the pace and has a decent late kick. John Velazquez picks up the mount for the first time.

PROGRAM TRADING has lost his last three starts in America but has three G1 stakes victories to his credit. British-bred son of LOPE DE VEGA was bought at Tattersalls four years ago to expand Chad Brown's barn to have horses for races like this.

Overseas Expert Column by Dick Powell

A field of only 10 runners will contest this race around two turns. There is a decent run into the first turn since the starting gate will be placed 200 feet from the timing pole and from there it about another furlong. The field this year is loaded with gate speed so the start will be crucial and the pace might be insane.

NYSOS won his first three career starts then returned this year in a 1400m G1 race at Churchill Downs on Kentucky Derby Day where he missed by a neck in a wide trip behind Breeders' Cup Classic starter MINDFRAME and beating multiple G1 stakes winner BOOK 'EM DANNO. Wisely, trainer Bob Baffert skipped the Pacific Classic and fits this race like a glove. From post three, Flavien Prat can sit off the pace and work out a trip.

TUMBARUMBA has won his last two starts going this distance and has enough gate speed to sit just off the early pace. Trainer Brian Lynch is sharp as there is and Tyler Gaffalione rides back. Last year in this race, he raced closer to the fast pace and it hurt him in the stretch. Tyler Gaffalione can let the speed horses go and follow them until the far turn.

Bob Baffert has three runners in the race but I don't see GOAL ORIENTED to be a threat to NYSOS. After winning his first two starts in April and May, he was thrown into the deep water when entered in the G1 Preakness Stakes where he had a rough trip at the top of the stretch when JOURNALISM tried to squeeze through. He came back with a close third in the G1 Haskell Stakes then weakened in the G1 Pennsylvania Derby. The distance suits and he picks up Luis Saez.

MYSTIK DAN won the G1 Kentucky Derby last year and is still going strong. After three straight poor races, he got back on track with a good win in a grade three then was an even fourth twice against grade one company. Last out, he won going away in the G2 Lukas Classic Stakes when he overcame traffic and as we have seen over and over again, he is fearless in traffic.

CITIZEN BULL romped in the G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile here last year when he dominated on the front end. Pointed for the classic races, he was a bad fourth in the G1 Santa Anita Derby then was beaten over 33 lengths in the Kentucky Derby. Bob Baffert tried sprinting him at Saratoga but lost all chance after being bumped at the start. The son of INTO MISCHIEF won here against cheaper stakes horses but he has won three of four starts on the Del Mar.

Overseas Expert Column by Dick Powell

This race will be run around three turns but with a shorter run into the first turn. It is not the strongest field of the weekend so chaos could ensue with some of the better females drawing way outside.

GEZORA improved as the races got longer this season. She won the G1 Prix de Diane over 2100m at Chantilly then came back and was second in the G1 Prix Vermeille over 2400m so today's distance should be perfect for her. Over very soft ground, she trailed in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe but she really had no chance when she drew post 13 of 17. Lightly raced, I like that she was soundly beaten in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe and was not overextended. Hopefully, it has been a good day for trainer Francis-Henri Graffard.

STELLIFY keeps moving up the class ladder with four wins in a row culminating in an easy win at Kentucky Downs. She should be the lone speed in here and over firm ground, Florent Geroux can cruise along without much pressure. The road to the Breeders' Cup rarely goes through Kentucky Downs but this filly just keeps getting better and should be sharp off the 56-day layoff. Trainer Brad Cox has had a terrific year and the daughter of JUSTIFY is still improving.

The draw for this year's renewal was tough on SEE THE FIRE but she has the best form of any of these. She was third at Royal Ascot in the G1 Prince of Wales's Stakes against top males including OMBUDSMAN. After a third against fillies, she came back with an even fourth behind two next out winners in the G1 International Stakes. Over very soft going, she just missed in the G1 Prix de l'Opera. Oisin Murphy will probably have to drop her back and trail early.

SHE FEELS PRETTY drew post 13 but she has some pace and John Velazquez might be able to gain early position coming out of the first turn. Daughter of KARAKONTIE has won five of her last six starts since adding blinkers including four G1 stakes. Not sure if she wants to go this far but at least she gets firm ground and tight turns to stretch out.

CINDERELLA'S DREAM was a terrific second here last year as the lukewarm favorite. Notice that she ran well in the summer when the ground is firm and her best effort was a win the G1 Falmouth Stakes at Newmarket. William Buick will wear the blue cap and she ships in as opposed to last year when she raced in America before coming here. On her best day, she is a pace stalker that should run about mid pack.

Some defeats – though not disgraced – in G2s here at Del Mar but a narrow 2000m G2 victory at Santa Anita in October provides some hope.

Her victories so far at a lower level but clearly an improving filly with a winning habit. Impressive when landing a valuable G3 at Kentucky Downs in September.

Track Analysis by Dick Powell

Del Mar will be hosting the Breeders' Cup for the second consecutive year. You can expect sunny weather with little to no chance of rain. The dirt track, which is one-mile in circumference, will be classified as "Fast" and the turf course, which is seven furlongs in circumference without a temporary rail, will be classified as "Firm." Like all American races, they are run counter clockwise.

Del Mar seems to be tighter than normal but it is the same configuration as Churchill Downs. The difference is that Churchill has 1,234 feet to the finish line at the end of the homestretch, while Del Mar has it in the middle. However, even with a shorter stretch, 919 feet to the finish line on the dirt and 817 feet on the turf, horses can win from behind.

A general handicapping principle that I follow is that the sun dries out the dirt track so in the middle of the day, it is tiring because it dries out faster than it is being watered. As the day progresses, the angle of the sun changes and it will become less tiring and more speed favoring.

The G1 Turf is run at 1 ½ miles and is run around three turns. It begins at the same place as the Turf Sprint with a short run to the first turn. When the field hits the finish line for the first time, there are seven furlongs to go. The Del Mar turf course has some banking so horses can rally as long as they are clear of traffic. Despite the warm weather, firm turf and time of the year, international horses have thrived on it.

The G1 Classic is run at 1 ¼ miles on the dirt and starts at the top of the homestretch with a ¼-mile run into the first turn. Post one can be difficult since right after the start, there is a portable rail where the chute intersects the far turn. In this year's G1 Pacific Classic, FIERCENESS almost went over it and only a miraculous ride by Johnny Velazquez averted disaster. The pace is usually fast which can make the finish a battle of attrition. It is a true test of stamina.

Back to the turf course, the G1 Mile begins a furlong from the finish line and is run around two turns. The configuration does not favor any running style. A slow pace will see the field race in close quarters so it is almost impossible to overcome traffic. Inside posts are fine as long as the horse has natural speed and doesn't have to use too much early energy. Wide and clear works but an explosive kick can work from anywhere.

The G1 Dirt Mile is run around two turns on the dirt with a short run into the first turn. However, there is a 200-foot runup before the timing pole so that helps some. A horse can be wide around one turn but nearly impossible to win with a wide trip around both turns.

Prolific Rebel's Romance looking for historic third Breeders' Cup Turf triumph

Thursday, 30/10/2025

The hugely popular Rebel's Romance could make history on Sunday (2 November) at Del Mar's beachside racecourse in southern California by becoming the first horse to win the G1 Breeders' Cup Turf (2400m) for a third time.

The gelding is based at Charlie Appleby's Newmarket stable, but his reach has been global. As well as those Breeders' Cup triumphs – the latest being a thrilling Del Mar course-and-distance victory a year ago, his worldwide Group 1 victories include the G1 Standard Chartered Champions & Chater Cup (2400m) at Sha Tin in May, 2024.

William Buick, who has ridden the striking brown gelding to 16 of his 20 career triumphs, is in the hot seat again, and they have drawn gate one in the 14-runner field.

Appleby said: "I will leave it to William as to how he wants to play it. He could lead or he could sit in the box seat.

"The old boy is against younger opponents again but he's got the experience that you can't beat around here, and he's in pitch-perfect shape," he added.

Amongst those younger rivals the seven-year-old will encounter around the tight Del Mar bends is the Aidan O'Brien-trained Minnie Hauk (Christophe Soumillon) who has built her own following after her 2025 Group 1 victories in the Oaks Stakes (2405m) at Epsom, Irish Oaks (2400m) at the Curragh, and York's Yorkshire Oaks (2371m) before succumbing by a head to Daryz in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe (2400m).

Other elite middle-distance contenders, who could further enhance the European domination of the Breeders' Cup Turf, include Goliath (Mickael Barzalona), Wimbledon Hawkeye (Frankie Dettori) and Ethical Diamond.

The latter will be partnered for the first time by the Hong Kong-bound Dylan McMonagle, recently crowned Irish Champion Jockey after a fabulous season.

Despite drawing the widest gate and the fact that he has only won handicaps on his last two starts – admittedly high-class ones in sizzling style at Royal Ascot and York, he commands respect as a runner from the hugely successful Irish stable of Willie Mullins, better known for jumps racing excellence.

Mullins said of Ethical Diamond: "He had setbacks earlier in his career but has come right now and just keeps improving. We've also worked out how best to ride him."

Two races later, the Europeans also appear to hold the strongest cards in the G1 Breeders' Cup Mile (1600m), especially with Buick's mount Notable Speech, Sahlan and The Lion In Winter – the latter pair partnered by France-based superstar jockeys Barzalona and Soumillon, respectively.

The Breeders' Cup Turf is carded as S2-1 and will be run at 5.41am (Hong Kong time) on Sunday, 2 November; the Breeders' Cup Mile is carded as S2-3 and will be run at 7.05am (Hong Kong time).

Romantic Warrior's Saudi conqueror bids for America's richest race

Friday, 31/10/2025

Forever Young – the narrow conqueror of Hong Kong's Romantic Warrior in February's G1 Saudi Cup (1800m, dirt) – is one of the leading chances in Sunday's (2 November) US$7 million (approx. HK$54.5 million) G1 Breeders' Cup Classic (2000m, dirt), North America's richest race.

In two previous US runs, Forever Young – trained by Yoshito Yahagi and to be ridden by Ryusei Sakai – almost became the first Japanese-trained G1 Kentucky Derby (2000m, dirt) winner and, a year ago, finished third in this race after sitting close to the ferocious pace.

In this weekend's nine-runner encounter, Forever Young will again face late-surging Sierra Leone – who was ideally suited by electric fractions last year to deliver the race of his life and run down Fierceness, who also reopposes.

Sierra Leone's trainer Chad Brown and jockey Flavien Prat are hoping that Florent Geroux will galvanise pacemaker Contrary Thinking to deliver a repeat of last year's frantic tempo.

Sierra Leone finished second to Antiquarian – another rival on Sunday – in the G1 Jockey Club Gold Cup (2000m, dirt) at Saratoga, but only after early drama in which Mindframe, another Breeders' Cup Classic rival, unseated his rider Irad Ortiz Jr.

"Sierra Leone had to jump over Ortiz and then spot the field many lengths but still came back and almost won. I think that sums up what this horse is made of," says Brown, who described the four-year-old's final piece of work prior to the Breeders' Cup Classic as "exceptional."

Besides Fierceness (John Velazquez) and Mindframe, trainer Todd Pletcher also fields Antiquarian. And Pletcher – the all-time winning-most US trainer in terms of prizemoney – certainly doesn't dismiss the prospects of the four-year-old mount of Luis Saez, who comes off a career-best performance when winning that contentious Jockey Club Gold Cup.

"It has been all about physical and mental maturity with him. He has kept on showing more talent than he did as a three-year-old," Pletcher said.

The concluding Breeders' Cup race is the highly competitive G1 Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf (2200m). The Europeans look strong even though two of their most obvious candidates – See The Fire (Oisin Murphy) and William Buick's mount Cinderella's Dream – have drawn stalls 14 and nine, respectively.

But those wide gates might not be such a disadvantage with both fillies having a closing profile.

The Breeders' Cup Classic is carded as S2-2 and will be run at 6.25am (Hong Kong time) on Sunday, 2 November; the Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf is carded as S2-5 and will be run at 8.25am (Hong Kong time).
