Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Allowance for one-time winning 3YOs at 2100m dirt track at Tokyo.

My favourite is AUREA MIST by GOLD DREAM, JRA Champion Dirt Horse in 2017. His dam is by BERNARDINI, US Champion 3YO colt in 2006 and he is from typical American family. And he is a big and powerful horse. All of them suggests he acts at dirt track much better than at turf track. He won maiden at 1900m dirt track at Kyoto on 10th February and I believe extra 200m at this race should help him. He finished second in maiden at Chukyo on 13th January and I am sure he can handle anti-clockwise track at Tokyo well. And he is trained beautifully in the morning at Ritto Training Center and I understand he is in top form.

My second choice is MOUNT VERNON by LE VENT SE LEVE, JRA Champion Dirt Horse in 2018, who won maiden at same course and same distance as this race on 9th February. Though he was beaten 7th in Allowance for one-time winners at Nakayama on 2nd March, the distance of race, 1800m, was too short for him and I am sure 2100m is much more suitable for him. He was breezed for five furlongs with Takuya Ono in the irons and clocked 66.3 seconds at Miho Training Center on 7th May. I am impressed with his action and believe he is ready to run his race on Sunday.

My third choice is DEPENDABLE. She was winless through four starts last year, when she dwelt coming out of stalls in all four starts. However, she made a quick start in the maiden on 23rd February and collected her first win in the race at same course and same distance as this race. Though she was beaten 7th in Allowance for one-time winners at Nakayama on 15th March, the distance of race, 1800m, was too short. I believe she can run much better at Tokyo on Sunday.

My fourth choice is SYDNEY HOBART by STRONG RETURN, who is half-brother to COREPETITEUR, winner of G3 Sports Nippon Sho Kyoto Kimpai in 2024. His first five starts were turf races. As he failed to break a maiden, Yoshiyuki Sugiyama who trains the colt selected dirt race as sixth start for him and finished third in maiden at Chukyo on 11th January. And he managed to win maiden over 1800m dirt track at Hanshin on 16th March by seven lengths. It was impressive performance and it is obvious that he acts at dirt surface better than at turf surface. And I believe he should be competitive at this class.

My fifth choice is SHINY SHIP, by RULERSHIP, who has finished within first three for four times at this class.

Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Allowance for one-time winning 4YO and upper at 1400m turf track at Tokyo.

My favourite is EFFORTLESS by EPIPHANEIA. He is consistent runner, as he finished within first four in recent few starts. He finished second in Allowance at Chukyo on 15th March and, beaten by nose, clocking final three furlongs for 34.3 seconds, which was the quickest in 18 runners. He has started at 1400m turf track at Tokyo twice, won once and finished second once. I am sure this course and distance is suitable for him.

My second choice is LOGICAL WORDS by NEW APPROACH. The colt is still winless after nine starts, however, his form shows he is competitive at this class, for example, he finished second in a race for two-time winners at same course and same distance as this race on 8th February. He clocked 1 minute and 21.0 seconds, which is faster than standard. As he re-produces that form, I believe he should run well on Sunday.

My third choice is LOVE SQUALL by DURAMENTE. She finished third in G3 Fairy Stakes at Nakayama on 7th January 2024. Since then, she has finished third in this class for three times and I believe she has an ability to graduate this class. This is first time for her to run the race over 1400m. I expect she shows her hidden ability on Sunday.

My fourth choice is DIVINE GRACE by KITASAN BLACK. Though she lamed and scratched from Allowance at Tokyo on 23rd February, she resumed full training within a few days and has been trained well since then. Though she is a sort of quirky horse, she is good enough to compete well at this class on her day, and Tokyo is suitable course for her, as she has a strong late kick.

My fifth choice is YELL TO HEAVEN by LORD KANALOA out of KISS TO HEAVEN. He finished third in Allowance at same course and same distance as this race on 16th June 2024. I understand he has an ability to finish within first five in this field on Sunday.

SELECTIONS: 9. EFFORTLESS, 12. LOGICAL WORDS, 4. LOVE SQUALL, 1. DIVINE GRACE & 5. YELL TO HEAVEN

Broke maiden over Tokyo 1400m but posted 11-8 in subsequent two tries over same conditions. Has decent speed but one gear. Finished 6-5-5 in last three outings over 1600m. Less distance not likely a plus.

Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Allowance for two-time winning 4YO and upper at 2000m turf track at Tokyo. It is small field of only five runners.

My favourite is SIMHANADA by REY DE ORO. He made successful racecourse debut on 6th July, when he won maiden over 2000m turf track at Fukushima, and collected his second win at Tokyo on 26th October, when he won Allowance for one-time winners at same course and same distance as this race. And he finished second in Allowance for two-time winners at Tokyo on 16th February, covering final three furlongs for 33.3 seconds, which was the quickest in 13 runners. I think it was a good performance and he should have a good chance to win as he re-produces that form on Sunday. Although he was beaten fifth in his last start at Nakayama on 2nd March, I have a feeling that Nakayama is not a suitable track for him and he should run much better at Tokyo on Sunday.

My second choice is AVENIR DE BRILLER. The well-bred horse by EPIPHANEIA finished second in Listed Principal Stakes, one of important prep races for G1 Japanese Derby, at Tokyo on 6th May 2023 and we thought he should have bright future. Although he has not met the expectation, he finished second in Allowance for two-time winners at same course and same distance as this race on 2nd February, which was a good performance. While he was beaten 5th in his last start at Tokyo on 26th April, he had traffic problem on home stretch and I reckon it was another goof effort from him.

My third choice is PINKY PROMISE by GOLD SHIP. While he does not have sharp turn of foot, he has sustainable speed, which he should have inherited from his sire. His performance in summer is better than in winter, and I am sure his condition has been improving in recent warm climate. This is not so competitive field and I reckon he should have good chance to finish within first three on Sunday.

Debuted in summer of his 3-year-old season but quickly won two in a row to reach this class. He possesses a strong turn of foot but his most recent run at Nakayama can be excused, as he had nowhere to go in the stretch. With only five starts under his belt, he still has room to improve and looks capable of competing at a higher level.

His runner-up effort two starts back over this course and distance showed his true ability. The extra furlong from last start should work in his favor, and if the track comes up a bit slower, his chances will improve.

Secured second over 2000 meters at Niigata last summer on slightly yielding ground, suggesting he can handle a bit of cut in the track. The smaller field this time should allow him to secure a good position early, which works in his favor. His condition has improved with the rise in temperature, and in this field, he shouldn't be overlooked.

The half-brother to the 2021 Japanese Oaks champion Uberleben. His fifth-place finish over this course and distance in February could be worth a look. Has a decent turn of foot. If the track turns up testing, he may be capable of improvement.

Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Allowance for one-time winning 4YO and upper at 1600m dirt track at Tokyo.

My favourite is PETIT BEURRE by SATONO CROWN, sire of TASTIERA, who won G1 Queen Elizabeth II Cup on 27th April. While he was beaten fourth in Allowance for one-time winners at Nakayama on 1st March, he finished second in Allowance for one-time winners at same course and same distance as this race on 6th October 2024 and 8th February 2025. I understand the 1600m dirt track at Tokyo is very suitable for him. The competition here looks easy for him and I expect him to graduate this class on Sunday.

My second favourite is TRAJECTOIRE by MAURICE, who won three G1s at Sha Tin. After running six turf races, Tomohito Ozeki decided to change strategy and gave the experience of dirt surface to TRAJECTOIRE at Tokyo on 22nd February. While he was afraid of the kickback from the sand at the beginning of the race, he soon became inured to it and ran bravely to finish 4th. I think it was a good effort and believe TRAJECTOIRE should run better at second attempt at dirt track on Sunday. And he has been trained very well in the morning at Miho Training Center since the last start and I feel that his condition is getting better.

My third choice is RHEIN GOODMAN. While he lost his form during second half of 2024 and beginning of 2025, he bounced back and finished third in Allowance at same course and same distance as this race on 27th April. He has been trained well at Miho Training Center since the last start and I am sure RHEIN GOODMAN is keeping good condition. I expect him to finish within first three on Sunday.

My fourth choice is ASK MOVIE ON by DURAMENTE. He started three times at NAR's Kawasaki Racecourse during this winter and won all of them. And then, he was transferred to Kyoko Maekawa's stable at JRA's Ritto Training Center earlier this year. He has started at JRA for three times since then and finished fifth in two starts. It looks he is only runner who has speed in this field and I expect him to control the race at front.

My fifth choice is ARGENT by SILVER STATE. He won two races at NAR's Morioka racecourse in 2024 and was transferred to Yoichi Kuroiwa's stable at Miho Training Center earlier this year. He was breezed together with ASCOLI PICENO, who is likely favourite in G1 Victoria Mile next week, in the morning on 30th April and proved himself good match. Although this is first start for him since November, I am sure he is ready to run his race on Sunday.

SELECTIONS: 11. PETIT BEURRE, 1. TRAJECTOIRE, 10. RHEIN GOODMAN, 2. ASK MOVIE ON & 9. ARGENT

Moved to dirt for first time last race and took to it well with fourth-place finish over the Tokyo 1600m. Speed likely competitive here. Travels from off pace but has good late kick. Promising.

Has been stuck at this level for 17 starts (mostly over 1700m-1800m) with only two finishes in the money. Drop in distance likely not a plus but turn of foot is not bad. Still, not promising.

Looks to have slipped into a slump in the seven starts since last year. Weight tends to fluctuate greatly, likely tying in to lack of success.

Started over Tokyo dirt 1600m, broke late and ran on heavy ground. Then moved to local-circuit racing (NAR), aced two starts and returned to JRA. Still much of an unknown. Has potential but has not raced since mid-November.

Surprised as longshot to finish third over Tokyo 1600m two weeks ago. Had usually raced at shorter distances, but more ground and somewhat heavy track may have been factors. Had a fourth over same early in career. Could do well.

Talented Miho-based filly is versatile, with late speed and no finishes off the board from six starts. Tends to be slow away but has two seconds over Tokyo 1600m. Promising.

Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Hiyoshi Tokubetsu is stakes for two-time winning 4YO and upper at 2100m dirt track at Tokyo Racecourse.

My favourite is TAISEI ADDICT, who has been running consistently since last autumn. After finishing second in three consecutive starts in Allowance for one-time winners, the colt by LEONTES graduated the class for one-time winners on 25th January when he won Allowance at Nakayama, and then, he finished second in Allowance for two-time winners at Tokyo on 23rd February. I regard his form in previous start highly, as AMOUREUX DE PARIS, winner of the Allowance at Tokyo on 2nd February, won a race for three-time winners a Tokyo on 3rd May. I have an impression that he is competitive at this class and 2100m dirt course at Tokyo is suitable for him. He has been trained beautifully at Miho Training Center since last start and I believe he should have a good chance to graduate this class on Sunday.

My second choice is KAZU TANJA, 4YO colt by DREFONG. He graduated the class for one-time winners on 25th August 2024 when he won Allowance at Chukyo. Since then, he has started at this class for four times and finished within first three in three of them. Though he ran poorly at Nakayama on 15th December, there was an excuse that the distance of race was too long for him. While he has not started at Tokyo, he has started at Chukyo, which has similar character as Tokyo, anti-clockwise track with long home stretch. I believe he is able to handle the track at Tokyo.

My third choice is HO O BERGSON. The 4YO colt by REAL STEEL has just graduated the class for one-time winners on 22nd March, when he won Allowance at Chukyo. I have an impression that HO O BERGSON should be competitive running against two-time winners. He has started at Tokyo only once and won maiden at same course and same distance as Hiyoshi Tokubetsu there.

My fourth choice is SOUL AND JAZZ, who finished fifth at Nakayama on 13th April. Damian Lane is booked for the 4YO colt by BRICKS AND MORTAR on Sunday and I expect Damian's strong hands could awake SOUL AND JAZZ, who is a lazy horse.

My fifth choice is MOUNTAIN ACE, who has won Allowance for one-time winners at same course and same distance as Hiyoshi Tokubetsu on 17th November 2024.

Standout in this field. Only two wins from career 15 but consistently in the money, including three of four starts at this level. However, lacks early speed and can lose concentration if distanced from pack. Can race at good speed at length. First time at Tokyo, but should suit.

Despite some good performances last year, last four starts disappointed. Footwork sharp in trackwork, but times slow and returning after nearly five months. Not promising.

Had moved up steadily, then narrowly missed win in first start at this level last November. Has done poorly in two starts since return in February. Has chance if condition improves, but still looking short of best in work.

Switched to dirt for a 1-6-5 with win over flat Kokura track. Nakayama hill in final stage took its toll in last two outings. Condition is good and has speed, with 300-metre shorter trip this time a likely plus. However, first time at venue and Tokyo is a high bar.

Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Metropolitan Stakes is Listed Race for 4YO and upper at 2400m turf track at Tokyo Racecourse.

My favourite is MEINER CHRYSOLA, 6YO horse by SCREEN HERO. He finished fifth in G2 Nakayama Kinen at Nakayama on 25th February 2024, and fifth again in G2 Nikkei Sho at Nakayama on 29th March 2025. I am impressed with his performance in last start, as he finished within 0.1 seconds from the winner and covered final three furlongs for 36.4 seconds, which was the fastest in 15 runners. The competition here looks much easier than those Graded Stakes. And Tokyo is his favourite track, where he has started for eight times, finished within first three in six of them. I reckon MEINER CHRYSOLA has a good chance to become a Listed Race winner on Sunday.

My second choice is BRAVE ROCKER, 5YO horse by DURAMENTE. He finished third in a 2600m race at Hanshin on 13th April, and I think it was a good effort, as he covered final three furlongs for 34.8 seconds, which was the fastest in 11 runners, and finished within a length from the winner. As he re-produces that form, I believe he should be competitive in the field of Metropolitan Stakes on Sunday. While he has not started at Tokyo, the track with long homestretch should suit for BRAVE ROCKER, who has strong late kick.

My third choice is WIDE EMPEROR, 7YO horse by RULERSHIP. Tokyo is his favourite track as he started there for ten times and finished within first two in six of them. Although this is first start for WIDE EMPEROR since October 2024, he has been breezed at uphill track at Ritto Training Center twice a week since middle of April and I believe he is ready to run his race on Sunday. And it is another factor that Christophe Lemaire is booked for him.

My fourth choice is MEINER CAMPANA, who won a race at same course and same distance as Metropolitan Stakes on 8th February. I believe this is the course and distance where the 5YO horse by GOLD SHIP is able to exhibit his best performance.

My fifth choice is GRUNER GREEN. It looks he is only horse who has speed in the field, and the 5YO horse by LOVELY DAY should be able to control the race at front.

Third start after returning after nearly two years of rehabilitation. Coming off a sixth over Nakayama 2500m. Has two wins over Tokyo 2400m, albeit at lower levels, but stayer blood a plus. Could surprise.

In poor form after being gelded, gradually recovered since May 2024. Beaten 2.5L in G2 and G3, following three good performances in Listed, including two placings in last two starts. Tokyo suits with one win, one second and two thirds, three of those over same distance. Promising.

Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Although Classic races for 3YO colts and fillies in Japan were designed, modelling Classic races in United Kingdom, the birthplace of horse racing, distance of G1 Satsuki Sho, first leg of Japanese Triple Crown, is 2000m, while distance of G1 2000 Guineas, first leg of British Triple Crown is one mile, approximately 1609m. G1 NHK Mile Cup for 3YOs is recognized in effect, as first leg of Japanese Triple Crown, as it takes place over 1600m at Tokyo Racecourse.

My favorite is ADMIRE ZOOM, bred by Shadai Farm and bought by Junko Kondo. The colt by MAURICE, trained by Yasuo Tomomichi, won G1 Asahi Hai Futurity Stakes over 1600m at Kyoto on December 15th by two and half lengths. Second finisher in G1 Asahi Hai Futurity was MUSEUM MILE, who subsequently won G1 Satsuki Sho on 20th April, and I understand we should regard the form of G1 Asahi Hai Futurity Stakes highly. Though ADMIRE ZOOM was beaten second in G2 New Zealand Trophy at Nakayama on 12th April, it was first start for him since December and it was obvious that he needed the race. I find he is now carrying much more muscle on his shoulder and hind quarters than before and believe he is ready to display powerful performance on Sunday.

My second choice is MA PUCE, 3YO filly who finished fourth in G1 Oka Sho (Japanese 1000 Guineas) at Hanshin on 13th April. The filly by MIND YOUR BISCUITS has won a race at same course and same distance as NHK Mile Cup in November, and finished second in G3 Daily Hai Queen Cup at same course and same distance as NHK Mile Cup in February. I believe this course and distance is suitable for MA PUCE.

My third choice is MAGIC SANDS, who finished sixth in G1 Satsuki Sho last time out. I regard this performance highly, as he jumped from the widest draw in 18 runners' field and covered final three furlongs for 33.8 seconds, the quickest in 18 runners. In my opinion, 2000m was too long for him and 1600m is the suitable trip for him. And it is attractive that Yutaka Take is booked for him.

IMMIGRANT SONG, who won G2 New Zealand Trophy, beating ADMIRE ZOOM, is my fourth choice. It is encouraging factor that Christophe Lemaire is booked for him.

My fifth choice is LANCE OF CHAOS, who won G3 Churchill Downs Cup over 1600m at Hanshin on 5th April.

Likely Positions After Settling

Pace: GOOD

There is a lack of pace in this race and ADMIRE ZOOM can come across and get to the rail first. VOULEZVOUS can press forward from the wide draw and share the lead. SHONAN XANADU and LANCE OF CHAOS have drawn well and they can sit behind the speed. TIRATORE may be trapped wide from the awkward draw.

Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Rikka Stakes for three-time winning 4YO and upper is conducted at 1600m dirt track at Tokyo on 11th May.

My favorite is NIGHT AQUARIUM, who is one of the most consistent runners at the class for three-time winners in the field of Rikka Stakes. The 5YO horse by LORD KANALOA graduated the class for two-time winners at Fukushima on 7th April 2024. Since then, he started at the class for three-time winners for four times and finished within first four in all those starts. It is his strong point that NIGHT AQUARIUM has strong late kick, for example, he finished third at Chukyo on 15th March, covering final three furlongs for 35.5 seconds, which was the quickest in 16 runners. I regard this performance highly, as he was bumped and lost momentum for a while at far turn. Though he has started at Tokyo for five times and never won a race there, he clocked 1 minutes 36.0 seconds, which is faster than standard time, when he finished 3rd in a race at same course and same distance as Rikka Stakes on 26th May 2024, and I believe Tokyo is suitable track for NIGHT AQUARIUM.

My second choice is SORREL BULLET, American-bred 4YO colt by MALIBU MOON. He has just graduated the class for two-time winners at Nakayama on 20th April. I believe SORREL BULLET could be competitive at this class. And Tokyo is his favorite track, as he started there for five times and finished within first two in all those five starts.

My third choice is WET SEASON, 4YO gelding by MENDELSSOHN. He has similar profile as SORREL BULLET, as he is also American-bred, has just graduated the class for two-time winners last time out, and likes Tokyo Racecourse, where he started for five times, won three of them and finished second once. Though he has not raced since 8th February, I am impressed with his morning track work at Miho Training Center on 1st May, when he was breezed for five furlongs and clocked 64.4 seconds. I am sure he is ready to run his race on Sunday.

My fourth choice is GROSCHE. Though he was well beaten at this class in last two starts, distance of races were 1800m and I have a feeling that 1600m is more suitable for him.

My fifth choice is DANON THE VOLCANO, who has started at 1600m dirt course at Tokyo for four times and won three of them.

After two wins in a row, his performances have been underwhelming since stepping up to this class. His only run at Tokyo was four starts ago over 1400m.

Track Analysis by Naohiro Goda

Tokyo Racecourse

Tokyo Racecourse is an anti-clockwise oval track. Outer turf track is 2083.1m long, with 525.9m homestretch, which is the second longest in JRA's tracks after Niigata. Backstretch is 400m long. There are two chutes to set the stalls for races over 1800m and 2000m. The width of the course is the widest in JRA's tracks. The bend is gentle and it is described as "galloping course". While it is recognized in general that the true ability of runners reflects on the results, it is the tendency that the runners who are off the pace during former part of race and deliver strong challenge on homestretch make good showing at Tokyo Racecourse. Inner dirt track is 1899m long, with 501.6m homestretch, the highest point is from 200m before the finishing line to finishing line on the homestretch and the middle of the far turn to the top of homestretch is the lowest point of the course.

This year, four turf races and four dirt races from the NHK Mile Cup will be simulcast to Hong Kong.

Feature Race

G1 NHK Mile Cup (Turf, 1600m)

The feature race, the G1 NHK Mile Cup, is run on the 1600m turf course. The starting gate is positioned at the top of the backstretch, and the distance from the gate to the entrance of the far turn is 550m. While analysis suggests there is no significant draw bias, statistics indicate that middle gate numbers are preferable. The distance from the exit of the far turn to the winning post is 525.9m. A 160m long sharp rise, with the difference in height of 2m, begins at around 400m to 300m from home. The final 300m is flat. Closers with strong late kick tend to be successful at this course. Recognized as a "tough mile, it is analyzed that runners require the stamina to stay 2000m, even though the actual distance is 1600m.

Other Races

3yo 1 win & Hiyoshi Tokubetsu (Dirt, 2100m)

The 3yo 1 win and Hiyoshi Tokubetsu are run on the 2100m dirt track. The starting gate is positioned at middle of homestretch and distance from the starting gate to entrance of far turn is 236m. The early tempo of races here tends to be quick. Statistics show that inside draw is not preferable. Runners who track leaders are predominant, while closers tend to struggle at this course.

4yo and up 1 win (Turf, 1400m)

The 4yo and up 1 win is run on the 1400m turf course. The starting gate is positioned at middle of backstretch and distance from the starting gate to the entrance of far turn is 350m. Statistics show that wide draw is preferable. Tempo at beginning of race tends to be moderate or slow. Runners who have sharp turn of foot are predominant at this course.

4yo and up 1 win & Rikka Stakes (Dirt, 1600m)

The 4yo and up 1 win and Rikka Stakes are run on the 1600m dirt track. The course layout is quite unique, as the starting gate is positioned at the end of the near turn on the turf course, with the initial 150 meters (more or less) also being turf. As the runners who jump from wide draws run on the turf longer than those jump from inside draws, it is obvious that wide draw is preferable at this course. Leading wire-to-wire is challenging, and tracking or rallying tactics tend to be more effective at this course.

4yo and up 2 wins (Turf, 2000m)

The 4yo and up 2 wins is run on the 2000m turf course. The starting gate is positioned at the chute at entrance of far turn. The distance from the gate to the entrance of first turn is only 130m. The tempo at beginning of race tends to be quick at this course, and it is a theory that wide draw is disadvantage here. And it is obvious that Barrier 1 on the rail is advantage, according to statistic. It is not easy to make all and sharp acceleration at the final stages of the race can be a decisive factor at this course.

Listed Metropolitan Stakes (Turf, 2400m)

The 2400m Listed Metropolitan Stakes is run on the turf course at Tokyo. The starting gate is positioned at 317m before the finishing line on the homestretch and the distance from the starting gate to the beginning of the near turn is 350m. It is said that wide draw is not preferable at this course. The early tempo of races here tends to be moderate. Runners are required both of speed and stamina. It is not easy to make all and sharp acceleration at the final stages of the race can be a decisive factor at this course.

The NHK Mile Cup Day is the sixth day of the spring meeting at Tokyo Racecourse. The turf track has been well-maintained, with any damaged areas of the lawn repaired. A very fair track with good cushion was prepared for the start of the spring meeting. However, rain is forecast for 6th and 10th May. Therefore, it is advisable to pay close attention to weather updates, as significant rainfall could alter the track conditions.

Trio figures large amid NHK Mile Cup hopefuls

Friday, 9/5/2025

Tokyo's slew of Group 1 events kicks off on Sunday (11 May) with the 30th running of the G1 NHK Mile Cup (1600m). The race is a popular showcase for three-year-olds not being aimed at subsequent Classics.

As usual, it's going to be another difficult year to predict the outcome with only one Group 1 winner in the mix, but a number of Group 2 and Group 3 champions. Admire Zoom, Immigrant Song and Lance Of Chaos are gaining the most attention ahead of the race, with a number of others gunning for an upset including Magic Sands, Ma Puce, Arte Veloce, Satono Carnaval and Yankee Barows.

Looking to carry the lion's share of fans' expectations is Admire Zoom, a Maurice colt trained by Ritto handler Yasuo Tomomichi and the only Group 1 winner in the field.

The G1 Asahi Hai Futurity Stakes (1600m) winner breezed up the hill course at Ritto with eagerness in 52.9s over 800m this week. Working under an assistant to Tomomichi (Yuga Kawada is set to ride Sunday), he looked in better shape than he had in the G2 New Zealand Trophy (1600m), where he finished second by a neck. It was his first start after acing the Group 1 in mid-December.

On Wednesday (7 May), Immigrant Song breezed under new partner Christophe Lemaire along with two other horses over the Miho woodchip course. His time was 1m 24.0s over 1200m, with a final 200m in 12.1s.

Last month, the colt captured the G2 New Zealand Trophy at Nakayama with a 33.1s sectional for the final 600m. That win earned him a berth in the NHK Mile Cup.

"He beat a G1 horse (Admire Zoom) winning that race and I think he has a chance at the G1 level," Tsuji said.

Highly consistent Lance Of Chaos, yet to figure out of the top three in his four starts, won his ticket to the big show when he beat runner-up Arte Veloce in the G3 Churchill Downs Cup (1600m) at Hanshin on 5 April. The Silver State colt worked in a group of three at Ritto on Wednesday under Seinosuke Yoshimura, who has ridden all of the colt's four starts.

Trainer Yutaka Okumura is gunning for his first big win since opening his barn in 2015.

"In the Churchill Downs Cup, he (Lance Of Chaos) broke well for the first time and was able to race from a good position. He also made a gutsy run in the straight, breaking through a narrow space to win."

Magic Sands, fielded by Naosuke Sugai, aced his first two starts over 1800m (including the G3 Sapporo Nisai Stakes), but finished 16th and sixth in his first two Group 1s, both over 2000m. Yutaka Take, who's also set to ride Sunday, took the reins for the first time and rode fast work 7 May. "Take said the horse was in great shape," said Sugai, "and I have my hopes riding on him."

Sugai has won 15 Group 1s, but has yet to snare the NHK Mile Cup while Take has won the race three times, the most recent in 2006 aboard Logic.

Darkhorse Ma Puce, one of six fillies in the final field on Sunday, breezed over 1200m under Ryota Kojima, assistant to trainer Yusuke Wada, clocking 1m 22.3s.

"She really used her body well and she's showing no fatigue at all," Kojima said. "She'll be going to the gate in excellent shape and this time we'll be closer to home. I do think she'll give us a better performance than her last start," he said referring to her fourth place in the G1 Oka Sho (1600m) at Hanshin on 13 April.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

This competitive Class 1 Handicap is run over 2000m at ParisLongchamp. 4YO HYPERCORE was heavily penalised when took a big rise in the weights for a very easy victory in a 1900m handicap on the polytrack track at Chantilly. He was well beaten on his next start in a 2000m handicap at ParisLongchamp where he was very unlucky in the final stages of the race. He certainly has the ability to win this handicap and the booking of Christophe Soumillon suggests that he is expected to produce a big performance.

French by birth but living in England, David Menuisier saddles TRIBAL CHIEF. Since he was gelded this time last year, the son of SIOUX NATION has been extremely consistent and was only beaten by the improving BULLET POINT on his last two starts over 1600m. Last time out, he came from way back to finish strongly and stepping back up to the 2000m distance will only be to his advantage.

WATCH HIM is going to have his second start for his new trainer Jerome Reynier. He was competitive in a similar handicap over the same course and distance at the end of last season and finished. He then had a couple more runs on the all-weather over 1900m before enjoying a well-deserved break over the winter. His return to action at the end of March produced another third place in a 1900m handicap and he should have every chance to finish once more in the first three.

EVERILLO is not a horse that runs often, but when he does, he delivers. Last year, he won a 2000m handicap at Compiègne where he beat WATCH HIM into fourth place, while carrying the same weight. He then added a fourth place behind G3 winner DILAWAR to his name when they met in a 2100m Listed race at Strasbourg. His seasonal reappearance over 2100m was sufficiently encouraging to believe that he has a chance in this important handicap.

RUSSIPANT FAL finished fifth in this race last year, but has since experienced a few ups and downs. He is now trained by Nicolas Caullery who took him to Meydan, which proved unsuccessful. Back in France, he has since won an amateur race over 2100m. He is in good form and it would be no big surprise to see him involved in the finish.

Supplemented for this after a series of good displays at Group/Listed level. Is overdue a win and very much a leading contender despite his top weight.

He was a pale shadow of himself at Toulouse last time. Is best judged on two prior seconds in Listed grade, having chased home a future G3 winner at Cagnes-sur-Mer in February.

Not disgraced when third of five behind a hot favourite in a Listed contest over longer here last time, and the drop back in trip may play to his strengths, having won four times over this distance.

Made an eye-catching return when a strong finishing third on the Chantilly all-weather. Probably fresher than some of these and one to monitor in the betting.

Last year's third is following a similar path, having been dropped in class on seasonal debut. Not disgraced when second in a Class 3 race at Saint-Cloud and rates an each-way chance.

This smart British-trained performer made big strides forward last term (four wins), and plenty to like about second in a well contested Newmarket handicap in April. So a potential player.

Made a welcome return to turf after a poor run on the all-weather, having delivered at 17-1 in a Class 2 handicap at Saint-Cloud, giving the impression that he had still had something left in the locker.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The Prix De Morgador is a handicap for 3YOs over 1400m.

KALINAGO already has a win to her name, having landed a conditions race at Fontainebleau over 1600m back in March when making all the running from the front. Francis-Henri Graffard's filly then stepped into handicap company for the first time at Lyon Parilly over 1600m last month. She again went to the front of the field and looked to hold every chance 200m out before fading at the finish. It's interesting that her trainer has chosen to drop her in distance here, and if she is given an aggressive ride from the front, she could be hard to pass in the home straight.

One that looks capable of stepping up on the form he has shown in three starts to date is GUALTALLARY, having run in two strong-looking maidens on the polytrack at Deauville over the winter. The second of those came over 1300m and he was ultimately beaten just over 3.5 lengths by a horse that has since gone on to win a handicap and be second in a Listed race. On his return from a break last month, he was dropped into a claimer on the polytrack at Chantilly over 1300m and wasn't given a hard ride behind horses. That suggested more can be expected now stepping into handicap company, and the booking of top-rider Maxime Guyon is a major positive.

Another horse that has shown hints of ability in three starts to date is ALL I DO. This daughter of NEW BAY finished seventh on the all-weather on debut at Chantilly over 1600m and stepped up on that when not beaten far in sixth on her turf debut at Croise-Laroche over 1800m. She was set a hard task on her last start in what looked a strong maiden at Saint-Cloud over 1600m but there could be more to come now handicapping and dropped back in trip.

GRAND SON HAVANA has run two reasonable races in handicap company this season. She was beaten just half-a-length two starts ago at Argentan over 1300m and then caught the eye when staying on well from the rear at Chantilly over 1300m last time. This steps up in trip promises to suit and she can go well.

ASTON JUAN is another likely improver on handicap debut after not being disgraced in a competitive maiden at Saint-Cloud over 1600m last time and he could find enough improvement to run into the minor places.

Changed stables after winning an all-weather claimer at Chantilly in February. The 1200m may have been too sharp at Evreux last time and the extra 200 metres should help.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The draw is often crucial in the opening French Classic of the season. It is usually an advantage to race from a low stall in the Poule d'Essai des Poulains, run over 1600m.

HOTAZHELL has been lucky with the draw in stall two. He ended last season with a narrow victory in the G1 Futurity Trophy Stakes over 1600m at Doncaster. The way he battled on despite the runner-up DELACROIX leaning on him in the closing stages was good to see. That race has thrown up a number of Classic winners in recent years, including AUGUSTE RODIN, KAMEKO and SAXON WARRIOR. His prominent racing style will also help over this course and distance.

AOMORI CITY overcame trouble to win the G2 HKJC World Pool Vintage Stakes over 1400m at Goodwood last summer. He has improved since stepping up to 1600m, with his first try at the distance coming when a close third from a wide draw behind HENRI MATISSE in the G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf over 1600m at Del Mar in America last November. His third behind FIELD OF GOLD in the G3 Craven Stakes over 1600m at Newmarket was a good starting point to the season and he has been handed stall eight.

RIDARI warmed up for a crack at this prestigious prize by grabbing SAHLAN right on the line in a G3 run over the same course and distance last month. He looked like he would improve for his first run of the year and stall five is a help.

JONQUIL made a successful debut for trainer Andrew Balding when landing the G3 Greenham Stakes over 1400m at Newbury last month. He had made a winning start to his career for retired trainer Sir Michal Stoute over 1400m at Sandown last year despite finding all sorts of trouble. From the family of FRANKEL, he has top-class potential but stall 12 is not ideal.

HENRI MATISSE, who will race from stall six, is already a G1 winner, having landed the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf over 1600m last November. He had previously been tried in blinkers when disappointing in the G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere over 1400m at ParisLongchamp. Aidan O'Brien's runner kicked off this season with victory in a G3 at Leopardstown over 1400m although the form of that race is nothing special. The return to 1600m will help but his usual hold-up tactics are not easy to pull off at this track.

Likely Positions After Settling

Pace: GOOD

MISUNDERSTOOD likes to lead in this distance and should come across and take the early lead. HOUQUETOT has drawn awkwardly however he can be positive and get outside the leader. JONQUIL should settle in midfield. CAMILLE PISSARRO from the wide draw may be trapped wide. HENRI MATISSE will be towards the rear.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The season's first Classic race for fillies, the G1 Poule d'Essai des Pouliches over 1600m, could provide the Aga Khan family with a notable success thanks to MANDANABA and ZARIGANA, two well-bred fillies who have both won their prep races.

MANDANABA is the daughter of the dual G1-winning mare MANDESHA, who won over 2000 and 2400m. As a winner of the G3 Prix Vanteaux over 1,800m on her seasonal reappearance, one must assume that the Prix de Diane over 2100m would be MANDANABA's ultimate target, but she will have sufficient speed to take the Poule d'Essai Des Pouliches in her stride.

ZARIGANA, who like MANDANABA is trained by Francis-Henri Graffard, also has no stamina issues, as she has won twice already over the 1600m and was only beaten a nose in the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac last year. She is the more experienced of the two fillies, but as a granddaughter of the champion ZARKAVA, she can be a bit tricky. There is no doubt though that she is the class act here.

This G1 is shaping into a real competition between some of the oldest racing dynasties, as Juddmonte will be hoping that the Andre Fabre-trained BETTER TOGETHER can deliver here. She has a typical profile for Fabre horse, as she was brought up slowly through the ranks to win a 1400m Listed on her final start last season, before being stepped up in class on her seasonal return in the G3 Prix Imprudence over 1400m. It's thought that she may be even better over longer distances, but she will have improved since her last start and looks a really classy filly.

Aidan O'Brien's horses have not been at their best in the English Classics, but his horses have run to form more recently and EXACTLY, one of his four runners, looks a promising prospect. She has already run over the 1600m at ParisLongchamp where she finished third in the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac. She was beaten on her first start this season in a G3 at Leopardstown over 1400m, but should have improved since.

The Charlie Fellowes-trained SHES PERFECT will be a worthy outsider here after finishing a very close second to ZARIGANA on her first start this season. She found herself in front in a race with little pace and if she gets a lead this time, she must have a great chance to go close again, especially since she has reportedly improved a lot since her prep race.

SELECTIONS: 2. ZARIGANA, 1. MANDANABA, 11. BETTER TOGETHER, 7. EXACTLY & 4. SHES PERFECT

She warmed up for Sunday's classic by winning its recognised G3 trial, shrugging off a 189 day absence. Possessed with a powerful turn of foot she is a worthy likely favourite.

Aidan O'Brien's raider had a busy two-year-old campaign, and was at one stage ante-post favourite for the English 1000 Guineas and Epsom Oaks. She ran poorly when trying to make all but finishing last of the five runners in a G1 on her penultimate start in September, reportedly lame after the race.

Track Analysis by Tim Carroll

ParisLongchamp Racecourse

ParisLongchamp, where holds more than half of the G1 races contested in France, is an interlaced right-handed track with five different combinations, including three circular tracks, large (2750m), medium (2500m), small (2150m), a straight course (1000m), and there is also a chute which begins at the furthest point away from the stands on the right-hand side, this is known as the 'new track' (1400m). The chute joins the large circular main course before taking in both the false and main straight. The track does go up and down with the highest point (back of the course on the right-hand side) – the "Boulogne" section, where horses indeed "disappear" briefly from the grandstand into the woods – being nearly 30 metres above the lowest point (bottom of the course right-hand side).

All three circular courses join the main straight, with two winning posts in use, depending on the race distance. The straight-course dissects the large and medium circular tracks before joining the back straight of the small circular track in the centre of the course. They run the straight races right to left as viewed, the same as they do at Sha Tin over 1000m.

The Poule d'Essai des Poulains Day sees four turf races for coverage.

Feature Race

G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains (1600m)

For the G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains over 1600m, start is situated approximately halfway down the back straight, and runners have a relatively short run to a sweeping bend that heads downhill, where they then bottom out before taking in both the false and home straight, which has a slight but testing uphill run to the finish. The Poule d'Essai des Poulains, sees a notable barrier bias to horses that are drawn low. This is predominately due to the short run to the first bend, and the large field the race usually attracts. With the straight having a slight incline most of the way to the finish, horses ridden aggressively usually find it difficult to hold off the finishers.

Other Races

Class 1 Handicap (2000m)

The 2000m Class 1 Handicap is on the large circular course. The starting gate is from the far side of the course opposite the main grandstand on the large round course. On leaving the barriers they have a straight, but uphill run for nearly 600m before arriving at the highest point of the track near the 1400m chute (new track) whilst turning onto the sweeping home bend. This leads onto the false straight then onto the home straight for the uphill run home. There is no barrier bias over this trip.

3yo Handicap (1400m)

For the Prix de Mogador 3yo Handicap over 1400m, start is from a chute at the top far right side of the course known as the new track. They run downhill before joining the large round course, where they start to turn right. They then bottom out before taking in both the false and home straight, which sees a slight but testing uphill run to the finish. There is no notable barrier bias, however, the straight has a slight incline all the way to the finish and horses ridden aggressively usually find it difficult to hold off the finishers.

G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulaches (1600m)

For another 1600m G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulaches, it sees a barrier bias to horses that are drawn low, although not as significant as the colt's division. This is predominately due to the short run to the first bend, and the large field the race usually attracts. With the straight having a slight incline most of the way to the finish, horses ridden aggressively usually find it difficult to hold off the finishers.

The weather forecast suggests that it will be mostly clear in the week leading up to race day. But there is a chance of rain on the day. The last ten renewals have seen everything from good to heavy ground, but there has been good in the going description six times during that period, and if the forecast is correct, there is a strong possibility that there will be good in the description again on race day.

Zarigana's date with destiny on French Guineas Day

Friday, 9/5/2025

Zarigana heads France's defence of ParisLongchamp's Classic double bill on Sunday (11 May) against a powerful raiding party from England and Ireland.

While Zarigana is hot favourite for the G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulaches (1600m), the French 1000 Guineas, the G1 Poule d'Essai des Poulains (1600m), the French 2000 Guineas, is wide open.

Master Irish trainer Aidan O'Brien, out of luck in the English Guineas last weekend, is three-handed in the Poulains, his team led by Henri Matisse and Camille Pissarro.

John Gosden, who trains with his son Thady, is looking to Detain to make up for the disappointment of Field Of Gold's controversial defeat in the G1 2000 Guineas (1600m) at Newmarket.

Godolphin, who hoovered up four Classics in the space of 24 hours last weekend, counts on Aomori City to keep the good times rolling.

The main home hope in the colts' 1600m Classic is Ridari who, like Zarigana runs in the iconic green and red colours of the Aga Khan Studs.

Victory for either, or indeed Mandanaba, who is owned by Princess Zahra Aga Khan, would lend an air of poignancy to the day following the death of her father, Aga Khan IV, in February.

Zarigana looks the real deal as she aims to emulate her grand-dam Zarkava who, like Zarigana, landed the G3 Prix de la Grotte (1600m) Classic trial and then claimed the Poulaches.

While it may be asking too much for Zarigana to match Zarkava's achievements in going on to win the G1 Prix de Diane (2100m) and G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe (2400m), her trainer believes she has a sprinkling of stardust about her.

"She races in a slightly unusual style, carrying her head quite high, and she has this stride that makes her so powerful.

"Then, she can turn on the turbo chargers when she quickens up," trainer Francis Graffard said referring to Mickael Barzalona's ride.

Don't expect her to arrive on the scene until the final stages.

"Such is her ability to accelerate she can't hit the front too early so she'll be the last to attack," Graffard said, who is leading France's trainers' championship and who won the Poulaches last year with the Aga Khan's Rouhiya.

Her unbeaten stablemate Mandanaba is two from two, stating her case for Classic glory in the G3 Prix Vanteaux (1800m) with a Listed Stakes winner in second.

Another hoping to spoil Zarigana's big day is Better Together, trained by the legendary Andre Fabre and winner of the G3 Prix Imprudence (1400m) Classic trial in Deauville.

"She's an interesting filly. She makes hard work of it, she doesn't travel and she's the first one off the bridle. But you always think she's going to get there and she always seems to," said the Juddmonte owners' racing manager Barry Mahon.

O'Brien has multiple runners, including Exactly, who finished half a length behind Zarigana when the pair filled second and third in the G1 Prix Marcel Boussac over course and distance last October.

In the Poule d'Essai des Poulains, Ridari emerged as the chief French contender when landing the key recognised trial, the G3 Prix de Fontainebleau (1600m), but dangers from beyond France's borders abound.

Such as O'Brien's Henri Matisse who threaded his way through the field in courageous fashion to land the G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf (1600m) at Del Mar in November, and won his preparation race for this Classic test over 1427m six weeks ago.

However, he came unstuck on his last trip to ParisLongchamp, finishing fifth to stablemate Camille Pissarro in the G1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere (1400m) on Arc weekend.

Juddmonte's Jonquil, who will be ridden by Oisin Murphy and is trained by in-form Andrew Balding, tuned up with an eye-catching win in the G3 Greenham Stakes (1400m) at Newbury last month.

The same silks are carried by Colin Keane aboard Detain, with John Gosden commenting: "He's in good form and I think the track will suit him."

Others for the short list are Group 1 winner Hotazhell, representing the powerful Irish stable of Jessica Harrington, Graffard-trained Sahlan, and Misunderstood, who is aiming to land successive wins for Mario Baratti after Metropolitan's success 12 months ago.
