Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The first race on Thursday is the G2 Norfolk Stakes over 1000m, which is open to 2YOs.

This contest has thrown up some unexpected winners in the last few years, but well-fancied CHARLES DARWIN looks ready to set the record straight. Master trainer Aidan O'Brien's juvenile finished fourth on debut over 1000m at the Curragh but improved markedly when stepping up to 1200m at Navan, leading throughout and surging over five lengths clear at the finish. Dropped back to 1000m at Naas last time, he was just as dominant and could be the class act in the field here.

Karl Burke's NAVAL LIGHT may, however, be the thorn in CHARLES DARWIN's side. There was plenty to like about his debut at Beverley over 1000m in May, as he sliced through the field to grab second. He showed a serious turn of foot to come from the back of the field and looks to be a real contender with that run under his belt. With improvement likely, he could be a major force.

FIRST LEGION looks a gutsy type for Richard Hannon. He won on debut at York over 1200m and followed it up with a solid performance to finish second over 1000m a couple of weeks later in a Listed race at Sandown. He was positioned on the rail for the first half of that contest before switching left to find some room down the centre and just ran out of runway to close the gap. The experience of those two starts will stand him in good stead in this G2 test.

French raider AFJAN travels across the Channel for trainer Henri Devin having turned heads when winning on debut at Chantilly earlier this month over 1100m. There looks to be more to come from him based on that run and it's notable that connections have shipped him over for this contest.

William Buick takes the ride on WISE APPROACH for Charlie Appleby and Godolphin. A course-and-distance winner on debut at the end of April, he then took on a test at York over 1200m which saw him finish fourth – two lengths behind FIRST LEGION. Freshened up since and stepping back down to 1000m, he has every chance of turning the tables.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

This is a competitive 2400m contest where MERCHANT stands out as a leading contender. He won with any amount in hand at York over 2400m on his latest run. Sent off a well-backed favourite in each of his latest three starts, he's clearly a horse that the William Haggas yard like and is expected to take another step forward. His high draw in 20 stall looks preferable too, with seven of the last 10 winners coming from a double-figure berth.

SING US A SONG steps up to 2400m for the first time having won last time out over 2000m at Sandown. Both the nature of his win last time out and his pedigree suggest this extra distance is going to suit, though there is a minor concern about the quicker ground. If he handles it, he'll be right there, while he's also well drawn in stall 17.

Another on the shortlist is SERIOUS CONTENDER, who was impressive when winning over 2000m at Leopardstown last time out. He needed a fair bit of encouragement to keep up with the pace but was doing all his best work late and looks a force to be reckoned with over 2400m. Out of a GALILEO dam, it's likely he'll run a career best over this new trip.

Second to SERIOUS CONTENDER two starts ago was stablemate LIGHT AS AIR. Also out of a GALILEO dam and by Wootton Bassett, there's plenty of upside to him over this 2400m for the first time and quick ground shouldn't pose a problem.

Finally, GUNSHIP entered the notebook following a fast-finishing third over 2000m behind SING US A SONG at Sandown. Another 400m and the result might have been different, so he has to be respected for the in-form James Ferguson team.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The G2 Ribblesdale Stakes is exclusively for 3YO fillies and is ran over a distance of 2400m.

CATALINA DELCARPIO lines up here as a well-fancied runner for Irish trainer Paddy Twomey. She made a strong impression on debut, winning a maiden on debut at Leopardstown over 2000m. Last time out, she finished second in the G3 Salsabil Stakes at Navan, again over 2000m. The winner that day, WEMIGHTAKEDLONGWAY, went on to run a solid fourth in the G1 Oaks at Epsom, a result that adds real substance to the form. If those form lines are anything to go by, this G2 could be well within CATALINA DELCARPIO's reach.

Andrew Balding is represented by SERENITY PRAYER. She shares similar form to Twomey's filly, having won her debut at Newbury over 2000m before finishing second on her next start. That runner-up effort came behind another Oaks contender, WHIRL, who was only narrowly beaten in the G1 at Epsom. A big, scopey filly, SERENITY PRAYER appears to have improved for both her runs, and the clash between these two well-fancied fillies promises to be a fascinating one.

GARDEN OF EDEN is Aidan O'Brien's leading contender in this contest. This filly brings more track experience than most of her rivals, having run eight times and won twice. She most recently landed the Listed Naas Oaks Trial Stakes over 2100m and looked as though she was crying out for further, something O'Brien confirmed post-race. The step up in trip here at Ascot, for her first start in England, looks a natural progression and should play to her strengths.

LADY VIVIAN will be closely watched by Wathnan backers. She's shown solid form on the all-weather, including a promising effort at Southwell over the 2400m trip. Last time out, she proved she handled turf well with a win in a Chester handicap over 2500m, making all around the tight track. She looks progressive and could have more to offer here.

LIFE IS BEAUTIFUL is another to note. The John and Thady Gosden-trained filly has finished runner-up on both starts since winning on debut at Kempton over 1600m. She wasn't far behind KON TIKI and FALAKEYAH in those defeats, both of whom are well-fancied for Friday's G1 Coronation Stakes. On that form, she looks a serious player in this G2.

Two very encouraging April runs, easily winning a maiden and then second in a Navan G3 after an unlucky passage. Up to a trip that looks good for her. Chance.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

Thursday's G1 Gold Cup at Royal Ascot is the feature race of the meeting and is run over the marathon trip of 4000m.

Aidan O'Brien is the winning-most trainer in the race's history and saddles the progressive ILLINOIS in this year's renewal. He won the G2 Queen's Vase over 2800m at this meeting last year, which is often a race won by a future star stayer, and followed that up with second-placed finishes in G1 company at both Longchamp over 2400m and Doncaster over 2900m. Victory in slow conditions over 3000m on Arc Day at Longchamp after that suggested he could handle an extreme stamina test. He is only a 4YO and the big step up to 4000m poses a question, but he races like the trip won't be a concern and he is the one to beat.

TRAWLERMAN has no such stamina concerns. John and Thady Gosden's 7YO has become a mainstay in longer distance races in recent years and was second in this event last year. A fine fifth on seasonal debut at Meydan over 3200m was followed by dominant victory in his Sandown prep over 3200m for this, showing his wellbeing now as a veteran. He might not have the potential upside of ILLINOIS, but he ought to be there at the finish.

CANDELARI is a very lightly raced type and has already announced himself on the big stage. Francis-Henri Graffard's FRANKEL gelding only has five starts to his name but has won four of them. Three all-weather 2700m victories kickstarted his career and despite defeat in an April Longchamp G3 over 3000m, he subsequently won a Longchamp G1 over 3100m a month later. That win marked him out as a serious stayer in the making, and his trainer is said to have him primed for a big effort.

SWEET WILLIAM, like TRAWLERMAN, is an established operator in the staying sphere. Third in this race last year, John and Thady Gosden's 6YO was last seen when an admirable third to top international runner REBEL'S ROMANCE at York over 2800m, demonstrating he still retains his zest for racing. He has never been outside of the first three in five outings at Ascot and has the ability and experience to make the frame again.

COLTRANE is now an 8YO, and while his best days are likely behind him, Andrew Balding's gelding wasn't disgraced behind TRAWLERMAN last time out over 3200m and can run with credit.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

ARABIAN STORY appears to hold solid claims of making his first start on turf a triumphant one in the Britannia Stakes over 1600m at Royal Ascot. The Saeed bin Suroor-trained colt showed very little in two starts in Meydan, however he left those efforts behind to make a winning debut in Britain with a front running success in a 1600m maiden at Chelmsford. The form of that victory has since been given a boost with the third from that race, RIVER KING, winning a 2000m novice event at Windsor, while his pedigree suggests he should be fine on quick ground.

CONSOLIDATION took four attempts to get off the mark, but the Ralph Beckett-trained gelding looks to be heading in the right direction. Despite only winning once as a 2YO, he finished ahead of some useful rivals, most notably Irish 2000 Guineas winner FIELD OF GOLD on his second start in a 1400m novice at Doncaster. Although campaigned exclusively over 1400m to date, he looked to be crying out for a longer trip given how he hit the line at Goodwood on his return, and he looks more than capable of defying a small rise in the weights for that win.

TEROOMM arrives in fine form having won each of his last three starts since being upped to 1600m this season. While he took time to warm to the task at Haydock Park last time, the Roger Varian-trained colt showed a likeable attitude which will serve him well in a race of this nature. He was much better value than his slender winning margin last time and he looks a horse that still has plenty more to offer with conditions that will suit him well.

THE FINGAL RAVEN is one of the more exposed runners in the race having already had seven runs, but he boasts some useful form to his name. On his last start the Jamie Osborne-trained gelding chased home subsequent 2000 Guineas winner RULING COURT in a 1600m Listed event at Meydan. The lack of a recent run shouldn't be a worry given how his trainer's runners always run well in handicaps at the track.

BRAVE MISSION finished strongly on his last start in a 1400m handicap at Ascot which suggests the slight step up in trip here could help him unlock further improvement. All his runs on turf have come on quick ground and if he can see out this longer trip he shouldn't be far away at the finish.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

This 2000m G3 contest has thrown up some useful winners including 2008 victor COLLECTION who went on to win the 2009 G1 Hong Kong Derby and 2010 G1 Hong Kong Gold Cup. It is a race usually dominated by runners prominent in the betting, and the last winner that started at double-figure odds was in 2011.

The best form on offer is represented by DETAIN and TRINITY COLLEGE, who were narrowly separated when third and fourth respectively in a blanket finish to the G1 Prix Du Jockey Club at Chantilly over 2100m earlier this month. DETAIN had previously been sixth in last month's G1 Poule D'Essai des Poulains over 1600m, finishing strongly from an unpromising position entering the home straight. He holds G1 entries for races later in the season.

TRINITY COLLEGE also has multiple G1 race entries for later in the season. On his penultimate run, he was narrowly beaten by SEA SCOUT in a Listed 2000m contest at Epsom in April but would have won if he had not become unbalanced on that track's unique undulations.

Trainer Saeed bin Suroor, has booked top jockey James McDonald to ride TORNADO ALERT, whose two runs this season have both been in Classics. He finished fourth in the G1 2000 Guineas over 1600m at Newmarket, staying on well, before looking to find 2400m too far when sixth in the G1 Derby Stakes at Epsom earlier this month. Down in grade and probably racing at his optimum distance, he needs to go on the shortlist.

The career of GLITTERING LEGEND is on up a steep upward curve. The James Fanshawe-trained gelding has yet to race beyond 1700m but his pedigree and style of racing suggests he should stay this longer distance. The form of his Listed win over 1600m on the all-weather at Newcastle in April has been boosted by the rivals who chased him home.

JACKKNIFE needed to be switched and then was tenderly handled when third in the 1600m Listed Heron Stakes last month. That was an eye-catching run, and he would have finished second in a few more strides. This step up in distance looks likely to suit Oisin Murphy's mount.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

There is a series of these competitive 1400m handicaps and the form often repeats itself throughout the season.

GLENEAGLE BAY was a little unlucky not to win the Victoria Cup over this course and distance last month when beaten narrowly into third behind HICKORY. Stephen Thorne's Irish raider travelled smoothly through the race but was forced to challenge wider than the two horses in front of him. The strong pace of these races suits him and fast ground, clearly, is no problem. Granted a clear passage, he looks to have an excellent chance.

ROI DE FRANCE was just over three lengths further back in sixth in the Victoria Cup over 1400m. He also moved strongly for much of the contest but couldn't quite get to grips with horses that finished in the frame. Racing on the nearside of the pack probably didn't help. He looks a contender with Ryan Moore booked to ride.

NEVER SO BRAVE won twice for now-retired Sir Michael Stoute last season. There was a huge amount to like about his debut for Andrew Balding, when touched off by a nose over 1400m at Chester three weeks ago. The winner, MYAL, raced in a much more prominent position and NEVER SO BRAVE would have won had he not been stuck in traffic in the closing stages. He ran well when sixth in the G3 Jersey Stakes over 1400m at Royal Ascot last year and he still possesses the potential to be better than a handicapper.

WITCH HUNTER caused a shock when landing this race two years ago. His form this season since returning to turf from the all-weather has been below par but he has become well handicapped and he is ideally suited to the demands of this race.

OLIVER SHOW was nailed right on the line in the Lincoln over 1600m at Doncaster on the opening day of the turf season. He didn't get the clearest of runs through and might well have won with a better passage. His trainer George Boughey seems to have saved him for this race and the return to 1400m won't be a problem.

SELECTIONS: 26. GLENEAGLE BAY, 1. ROI DE FRANCE, 3. NEVER SO BRAVE, 5. WITCH HUNTER, 14. OLIVER SHOW

Track Analysis by Tim Carroll

Ascot is a large right-handed galloping triangular shaped track, just over 2800m in circumference, with a straight run of 500m on the round course. There is a straight 1600m course, which all races below 1600m are held. There are two start points for races run over 1600m, one on the round course and the other on the straight course.

The track was redeveloped in 2005 and the ground in the straight drains quicker than the rest of the course, meaning ground descriptions can vary. Being a large track with an uphill finish dragging almost the entire straight (including the length of the straight course), Ascot suits hold-up horses, and front-runners need to be ridden conservatively to ensure they save energy, although on-pace runners do tend to perform strongly over the 1000m.

Commonwealth Cup Day, day 4 of the Royal Ascot meeting see's seven turf races for coverage.

Feature Race

G1 Commonwealth Cup (1200m)

The Commonwealth Cup is a recent edition to the Royal meeting, with the first running held in 2015. The race runs on the straight course, over 1200m they will look to come down the centre, but can split into two and three groups in larger fields. Winners have mostly come from off the pace with seven having been held up or in mid division, two have tracked the pace and only CAMPANELLE, in 2021, has made all, which is the only time the race has been run on heavy going.

Other Races

G3 Albany Stakes (1200m)

The 1200m G3 Albany Stakes is the same distance as the G1 Commonwealth Cup.

Duke of Edinburgh Stakes & G2 King Edward VII Stakes (2392m)

Both G2 King Edward VII Stakes and the Duke of Edinburgh Stakes are over 2392m. The draw on the round course is of little consequence, although high drawn horses do have a good record in both of these races in recent years. Over 2392m they start at the top of the back straight and have a nice long downhill run before levelling out at Swindley Bottom and turning into a straight that gently rises down the side of the course onto a sweeping home turn entering the 500m uphill straight. Horses on the front will be afforded every opportunity in steadily run races, but races run at a decent gallop will suit back-markers as the uphill rise will take its toll on those ridden aggressively.

G1 Coronation Stakes (1594m)

For the 1594m G1 Coronation Stakes, they start from a chute at the top of the course on the right-hand side, and re-joins the course proper midway through the Swinley Bottom. In other words, from the lowest point of the entire Round Course, they will attack straight up a steady incline before hitting the home bend and entering the 500m straight, meanwhile racing continuously uphill, all the way to the finish. There is no draw bias, but horses ridden with restraint usually do well.

Sandringham Stakes (1600m)

For the 1600m Sandringham Stakes, the race runs on the straight course. In smaller fields they tend to come down the centre of the track, but can split into two and sometimes even three groups in larger fields. With the straight course being uphill nearly all the way, speed horses do have a decent record over this trip, but if they go too quickly on the front, the closers will dominate for 1000m. However, the further they go the more it suits horses ridden patiently, and those ridden with restraint normally do well.

Palace of Holyroodhouse Stakes (1000m)

For the 1000m Palace of Holyroodhouse Stakes, the race runs on the straight course. In smaller fields they tend to come down the centre of the track, but can split into two, and sometimes even three groups, in larger fields. Although uphill nearly all the way, speed horses do have a decent record over this trip, but if they go too quickly on the front, the closers will dominate.

Day 4 of the Royal meeting has seen Good in the going description in nine of the last ten years. The weather forecast suggests sunny weather in the lead-up and on race day. If the forecast is correct, then the going should be good, and could be good to firm as has been the case three times in the last four years.

Trawlerman poised to take over Royal Ascot crown of brilliant Kyprios

Wednesday, 18/6/2025

The retirement of Kyprios – undoubtedly one of the great long-distance racehorses of modern times – has altered the dynamics of the European staying division – and there must be a live chance that it will allow William Buick's mount Trawlerman to land Thursday's (19 June) G1 Ascot Gold Cup (3991m).

The battle between Kyprios and Trawlerman up the Ascot straight in this historic Group 1 had the Gold Cup crowd in awe of the courage of both horses last year, with Trawlerman failing by just a length after leading throughout.

Trawlerman who, back in October of 2023, had beaten Kyprios in the G2 British Champions Long Distance Cup (3190m), after another epic Ascot stretch battle, arrives here off a different preparation than last year. As his co-trainer Thady Gosden explains: "Last year we gave him a full break from Dubai (third in the G2 Dubai Gold Cup, 3200m) but this time we thought a prep would suit him well."

The 'prep' referred to resulted in the seven-year-old's eighth career victory – by an easy five lengths over Coltrane who is one of Thursday's seven declared rivals to Trawlerman – in last month's G3 Henry II Stakes (3245m) at Sandown.

Trawlerman's stablemate Sweet William, third last year, is no forlorn hope either especially as the record of Rob Havlin's mount indicates that he is not in the habit of letting his supporters down, though he does tend to prefer softer ground.

If Trawlerman or Sweet William do not poach the crown off Kyprios, then that void could be filled by his esteemed and consistent stablemate Illinois. Ryan Moore's mount is yet to finish out of the first three in ten starts but has never been tested further than the 3000m last October that saw him dominate ParisLongchamp's G2 Prix Chaudenay (3000m).

Trainer Aidan O'Brien says: "You never know for sure whether they will stay the Gold Cup trip until you try it. Once you go beyond two miles you're entering unknown territory. But we always thought he would stay and we've been delighted with him at home over the last few weeks."

Then there is Mickael Barzalona's mount Candelari. He cannot boast the hard-bitten profile of the usual Gold Cup winner, only having started his career last December, and is also looking to become only the first French-trained winner since Westerner in 2005. But he does come from the hugely in-form Chantilly stable of Francis-Henri Graffard and he was mighty impressive when accelerating clear of eight rivals to win last month's G1 Prix Vicomtesse Vigier (3100m) on slow ground at ParisLongchamp.

Graffard says: "He really wants the good fast ground we will get at Ascot." But like Illinois Candelari - who runs in the famous green and red silks of the late Aga Khan - now just needs to prove himself at this famously stamina-sapping trip.
