Overseas Expert Column by Brett Davis

GENEROSITY should have finished closer first up in the G3 Concorde Stakes over 1000m but was hemmed in along the rail. She then found the line with force in the G2 The Shorts over 1100m here at Randwick, with that form reference arguably the strongest currently going around. Furthermore, she's likely to enjoy the fast early sectionals, the top jockey in James McDonald takes the ride and her rating is superior to most under the structure of set weights.

OSTRAKA should end up securing one of the better positions in running following the initial hustle and bustle for spots which shall go a long way to obtain a positive result. He performed well first up in the G3 Concorde Stakes before seemingly suffering the second up syndrome in the G2 The Shorts behind G1 The Everest second favourite JOLIESTAR. Another barrier trial under race day rider Chad Schofield has since been won so it may be prudent decision to keep him safe.

DISNECK has plenty of ticks alongside his name in this competitive contest and rates as one of the major chances.
He has race fitness under the saddle, a nice mid-range barrier to work with and the best race credentials over this precise course and trip. Raising the bar to G3 level is now the mountain he must climb but he was impressive cutting down all opponents last start, so confidence levels are up.

SHEZANALISTER was an exciting prospect last time in work and she brought that level of form to the track first up at Warwick Farm. She's a three-time winner at Randwick, best when fresh and likely to adore the probable high-speed tempo to charge at down the long home straight. The big field and wide draw won't make it easy for her to navigate a clear passage, but I fancy she's returned an even better conveyance.

ROTHFIRE is entering veteran status nowadays but still possesses the talent and enthusiasm to compete with the opposition at this level. The outside draw is ugly on paper, but it'll provide Zac Purton with the perfect lead up to his ride on KA YING RISING in the G1 The Everest, which is the race that follows. His two runs back at Moonee Valley this campaign are worthy of forgiveness, and he'll be much more comfortable rolling forward at this track.

Overseas Expert Column by Brett Davis

KA YING RISING ended last season on an extraordinary high following a twelfth consecutive victory and fourth G1 win by claiming the Chairman's Sprint Prize. In the process, he secured the Hong Kong "Horse of the Year" title whilst booking a trip to Australia where he now joins a star-studded line-up in the G1 The Everest. In the process he successfully navigated through the HKSAR Chief Executive's Cup first up before arriving in Australia, by all reports, comfortable and well. Winning abroad whilst racing out of your comfort zone is the obvious challenge, but he's the best sprinter in the world, with everything seemingly in check, so he should be winning.

LADY SHENANDOAH has only raced on nine occasions to this point so there's plenty of time for her to announce herself as a genuine star. Her second in the G3 Concorde Stakes here at Randwick first up was a terrific opening performance to her campaign. She then became a victim of the challenging Moonee Valley track, along with a wide berth, but rated a standout even under the circumstances of defeat. Her recovery and track work since has been excellent and heavily praised by those around her, so she's perfectly poised to make her presence felt.

JOLIESTAR returned to racing this campaign in the G2 The Shorts at Randwick by delivering a dazzling display of awesome and hard-core finishing power. The performance was sensational on all accounts after she sat back wide before unleashing an electrifying burst. The three-time G1 winner races best on a good surface, particularly when she's kept fresh, which is precisely what she'll be feeling second up. Trainer Chris Waller has since sent her around quietly in a trial at the back end of the field but that won't be the case when she goes to work today.

JIMMYSSTAR is one of the quickest horses in the country over the final 300m but when you're racing over 1200m, at this level, you need things to roll your way. It's debatable whether he'll receive the frantic first half digits needed to drop on the leaders in the nick of time, but you'll be granted a good price if you think he can. I've been excited by the preparation he's enjoyed and felt his closing display in the recent G2 Premier Stakes behind BRIASA was an extremely positive sign.

BRIASA was cut down in the final steps of the G2 The Shorts at Randwick first up by the overwhelming talent of JOLIESTAR. He then made amends stepping up in trip to the 1200m of the G2 Premier Stakes where he was superbly ridden by regular jockey Tyler Schiller. He's primed and peaking now following a faultless preparation and final week on the training track and must be included in all multiple discussions. Drawing a high barrier however is the likely downer to his winning hopes but it should ensure a strongly run event.

The 3-year-old is the youngest horse in the field and shows plenty of promise with 4 wins, 1 second and 2 thirds from her 8 races. Just missed 2nd when she ran 3rd when Beiwacht smashed the track record in the G1 Golden Rose Stakes (1400m) at Rosehill on 27 September. 1200m suits.

LINEBACKER is expected to start race favourite despite the fact he's draw off the track and carries the biggest weight. The G1 Randwick Guineas winner from the autumn holds the outstanding credentials and his overall handicap rating points in the direction of another win. There were excuses first up after he was ridden further forward and ended up covering ground, but an additional trial since where he defeated OVERPASS and KA YING RISING says he's back on track.

LORD PENMAN comes back in distance from a solid effort in the G1 Epsom Handicap over 1600m where he finished just in behind the main pack. He was vetted after the race with a slow recovery, and it was also noted that he'd suffered from the thumps. He's since worked well and appears ready to bounce back with his fast-finishing sectional power more than likely to be back on full display.

GERRINGONG is a lightly raced and progressive speedy individual who can utilise the low draw to lead or box seat. Her most recent runner-up performance in the G2 Gold Pendant was both gritty and encouraging considering the 1400m was a concern. In the end, she was beaten by a superior turn of foot but the fitness benefit gain from that outing can assist her coming back in trip to 1300m.

SABAJ was a class act in lower grade events in South Australia before raising his profile and status by finishing second in the G2 Tobin Bronze Stakes. He was then transferred to the Victorian stable of Mick Price and Michael Kent Junior in August and has since trialled up solidly in preparation. He's a long way out of the handicaps at the set weights but has displayed the ability to find under intense pressure.

POINT AND SHOOT displayed above average ability as a youngster but is yet to recapture any encouraging form. However, he's gone back to the trial track on two occasions at Warwick Farm and both times moved better for race day rider Rachel King. He's got multiple lengths to find if he's to be somewhere in the mix but there's a decent size engine to call on which maybe about to come good.

Not the best of luck when finished last campaign with 7.79L 11 of 17 in Listed 1600m at Eagle Farm. Had a 1000m and 1200m trial to prepare for this. Has excellent first-up record and will be ridden for luck if she gets back in the field.

Overseas Expert Column by Brett Davis

FANGIRL needed the run first up in the G1 Memsie Stakes at Caulfield and additionally wasn't overly uncomfortable in the softer conditions under foot. She quickly bounced back however in the 7 Stakes at Randwick with the runner-up LINDERMANN winning the G2 Hills Stakes at his next start by a space. She'll play her normal role early stages by sitting back during the first half before unwinding with her greatest attribute, her finishing sprint, to more than likely win.

MR BRIGHTSIDE needs no introduction after winning the last three additions of the G1 Makybe Diva Stakes and despite recently becoming an 8YO shows no signs of slowing down. With ten G1 wins to his credit, two of which were achieved at this track and trip, he remains a force to be reckoned with in whatever assignment he contests. A gallant second in this race back in 2023 behind FANGIRL was courageous in defeat and his two runs back this campaign suggests he's ready to rumble with her again.

PRIDE OF JENNI can never be overlooked in a race of this nature because she doesn't know how to go slow. At 1600m, she's capable of leading with relative ease before busting up the field mid-stages with a frantic sectional climate that ends up breaking hearts. She did it to MR BRIGHTSIDE last year, AMELIA'S JEWEL in 2023 then recently first up in the G2 Feehan Stakes she flattened emerging super star TREASURETHE MOMENT.

CEOLWULF has enjoyed a solid and somewhat similar preparation to what he encountered last year, which is encouraging for connections because he won the 2024 edition of this race. A superbly executed ride on that occasion by former Hong Kong Jockey Chad Schofield was the key after he positioned perfectly from gate seven to enjoy the race winning trail. He then edged past the running leader, PRIDE OF JENNI, over the final meters to win and with the appropriate amount of speed on today, he can repeat the dose.

LAKE FOREST arrives back in Australia under the astute care of William Haggas following a narrow defeat in the G1 City Of York Stakes at the end of August. We know the English trained galloper is no stranger to Sydney racing after dropping by last November to claim the $10 million AUD Golden Eagle at Rosehill. Although this rates a far stronger event, it would be ill advised to disrespect his presence considering Zac Purton takes the ride from a cushy favourable draw.

English trainer William Haggas is back with his entire after winning last year's rich Golden Eagle (1500m) at Rosehill. Has been 2nd at his past two runs in G2 and G1 1400m races in Great Britain. Rates highly for this and will finish strongly.

Chased hard last start in the G1 Flight Stakes (1600m) at Randwick on 4 October to finish 1.18L 2nd of 10. Has been good all this campaign. The 3-year-old is the youngest in the field and she is a likely improver in tough race.

Overseas Expert Column by Brett Davis

WORLD ALLIANCE has been up for quite a while this preparation but received a short freshen up during the middle of August. His two outings since have been solid in defeat and the decision to step up to 1400m may pay dividends. The trainer/jockey combination have proven in the past they can bring about success so he's worth a win/place ticket in an open final contest.

KERGUELEN draws out wide, but he's race hard fit and a very consistent animal that should be included in calculations. He got along way back in his recent event over the 1200m before closing in hard between runners the final stages. The step up in trip to 1400m should suit but it's a race that shall probably be won by the runner with a bit of luck and best ride.

SIR ARTIE elevated his winning record to seven recently at Rosehill in a BM88 and is worthy of consideration in what could be described as a challenging final event. There's plenty you could write a script for, and he's included of the back of that comprehensive win, but his record at Randwick needs to improve. He'll appreciate the apprentice claim and draws to enjoy a comfortable and economical journey in transit.

ROCK EMPIRE is a lightly raced 5YO with plenty of speed and should just about reach the rail first and lead. He'll then be challenged by runners drawn wider but is likely to kick up strongly and maintain the lead. The longer Randwick home straight and depth of the chasing opposition shall certainly test his back-end strength, but it's anticipated he'll give a good site.

ZOUNA ran a sparkling race to finish second behind BROADSIDING in the G2 Sires' Produce Stakes at Eagle Farm in June 2024 and can be entertained as ruff hope. A substantial seventy-week break and change of stable followed that effort so it remains fully unknown as to where he's at. Nevertheless, he ran home solidly first up after being checked out the gates and could significantly improve second up.

SELECTIONS: 10. WORLD ALLIANCE, 7. KERGUELEN, 4. SIR ARTIE, 14. ROCK EMPIRE & 11. ZOUNA

Track Analysis by Brett Davis

Randwick Racecourse is the home of racing in Sydney, with races being run there since 1833. Located around six kilometres from the city's CBD in the leafy eastern suburbs, it hosts major racedays in Sydney like Doncaster Mile Day and Queen Elizabeth Stakes Day in the autumn, while The Everest is the biggest race run on its famous turf during the spring.

Randwick has a track circumference of 2227m, a width of 28m and a home straight that is 410m long and has a gentle rise. Renowned for its expanses, Randwick is a fair, right-handed racecourse where every horse in theory should get its chance, however, as can often be the case in Australian racing, track patterns and bias on a particular raceday can emerge, which is worth paying attention to.

Feature Race

G1 The Everest (1200m)

The G1 Everest will start from the 1200m chute in the top right corner of Randwick. The field will run for over 200m on the chute before linking up with the course proper. There is only one turn for the runners to face before they enter the home straight.

Other Races

G3 Sydney Stakes (1200m)

The G3 Sydney Stakes is run over the same distance as the G1 The Everest.

Silver Eagle (1300m)

Barriers are important for runners in the Silver Eagle over 1300m, given that the field has a short run of only 150m from the chute start before they link up with the course proper and then quickly turn to the side of the track. Consequently, horses drawn wide are at a disadvantage here.

G1 King Charles III Stakes (1609m)

The G1 King Charles III Stakes over 1609m, one of the fairest starting points in Australian racing. From this point, the field has a run of 600m before they turn to the side of the track, giving runners plenty of time to find their positions and lessening the significance of the barrier draw.

The Hong Kong Jockey Club World Pool Handicap (1400m)

The Hong Kong Jockey Club World Pool Handicap is run over 1400m and begins from a chute. The field in this race will have a relatively short run of close to 250m before linking up with the course proper and history suggests that wide draws are at a disadvantage from this start.

David Hayes declares Ka Ying Rising ready to rumble after final gallop before The Everest

Monday, 13/10/2025

David Hayes is “very confident” Ka Ying Rising is ready to fire in the G1 The Everest (1200m) at Royal Randwick in Sydney, Australia on Saturday (18 October) after the champion sprinter breezed through fast work this morning (Monday, 13 October).

Dismissing rumours Hong Kong’s reigning Horse of the Year was in doubt for the AU$20 million (approx. HK$101 million) feature, Hayes was delighted with Ka Ying Rising’s gallop at Canterbury Racecourse.

“We’re really happy with him. He just went out on the beautiful Canterbury track this morning and ran home (his last 600m) in 38 (seconds) under a nice hold. His recovery was excellent,” Hayes said, pointing to the gelding’s improvement since last week’s third placing in a 1000m barrier trial at Randwick.

“I think he’s really improved from that trial. The idea of the trial was to bring him on and I think it has.

“I think he’s ready to rumble. I know there was some criticism about Ka Ying's trial and in simple terms I would have given his trial a seven out of 10 rating, but it was more an orientation for him. He has come on a lot since the trial and his weight has come back to his last-start winning weight.

“It (barrier trial) was his first competitive work with other horses for a month and that is why I knew he would come on so much from the trial. If he was trialling today, he would get a 10 out of 10. I'm very confident we have him at his best and it will take a good horse to beat him on Saturday.”

Hayes was perturbed at the weekend at reports the world’s highest-rated sprinter had fitness and eating issues and was in doubt for The Everest.

Hayes said a media commentator’s X account “had been hacked and sent out some false information, which basically had him scratched – lame behind and not eating.”

“That’s not the horse I’ve been training, anyway,” Hayes said. “The phone went into meltdown for probably six hours. It was fake news.

“He’s (Ka Ying Rising) made the progression we thought he would and we’re really expecting a bold showing. We’re really happy and I love the (dry) weather pattern as well. A nice, firm track will only help.

“The Canterbury facilities are first-class. He normally works with 100 horses on the track at any time, so he’s incredibly chilled out and relaxed here. His feed intake is great and his weight is right in check, so I think it’s all ready to go.”

Hayes hopes Ka Ying Rising draws near to the inside for the world’s richest turf race, which carries a winner’s purse of AU$7 million (approx. HK$35.5 million).

“I think as close to the rail as possible. That would be best,” Hayes said.

“In Hong Kong, they jump and really go hard because they’ve only got 200 metres to the turn, in Sydney they’ve got a nice 600-700 metre run. The tempo is not quite as hectic, so the barrier is not so important for him. He’s got incredible gate speed and he’s got the ability to take a sit, so he’s pretty foolproof.

“If the pace is fast, Zac (Purton) will sit third, if the pace is slow, he will lead.”

Ka Ying Rising draws barrier seven for G1 The Everest

Tuesday, 14/10/2025

David Hayes has labelled Ka Ying Rising's barrier draw of gate seven "perfect" as the world's top-rated sprinter attempts to win the AU$20 million (approx. HK$101 million) G1 The Everest (1200m) at Royal Randwick in Sydney, Australia, on Saturday (18 October).

In a spectacular drone show on Sydney Harbour, Ka Ying Rising was the first horse to have its barrier revealed, prompting a positive and unequivocal reaction from Hayes, who said jockey Zac Purton will have options from the gate.

"Perfect. Anywhere from (barrier) four to eight, I was going to be happy with and we got there," Hayes said. "(He can) jump fast and get a good position – that's a good barrier.

"I think Zac can choose whether he goes right forward or follows what could be the frantic pace.

"Zac will jump fast, for sure, and if the pace is hectic, he'll back out of it. Some of his most impressive wins have been sitting off the pace. But if they miss the start and don't go fast, he'll lead – he's that sort of horse and Zac's that sort of jockey."

Chasing the winner's purse of AU$7 million (approx. HK$35.5 million), Ka Ying Rising will attempt to become the first horse to win the world's richest turf race from gate seven.

In the eight runnings of The Everest so far, barrier five has been the most successful with two victories, while gates one, four, six, nine, 10 and 12 have provided one winner each.

Hayes is confident Ka Ying Rising is continuing to improve since his third behind Overpass in last week's 1000m barrier trial and was delighted by the five-year-old's fast work on Monday (13 October) as he bids to become Hong Kong, China's first winner of The Everest.

"He's in really good form, I'm very happy with him," Hayes said.

Ka Ying Rising's main rivals in The Everest enjoyed contrasting fates, with Joliestar drawing gate five alongside Lady Shenandoah (six), but Briasa (gate 10) and Jimmysstar (barrier 11) drew wider than preferred.

The other allocated gates for the remainder of The Everest are: Tempted (barrier one), Mazu (two), Angel Capital (three), War Machine (four), Jedibeel (eight), Overpass (nine) and Magic Time (12).

Hayes said Ka Ying Rising would follow a familiar low-intensity preparation pattern for the rest of the week as his five-year-old star bids for a 14th successive win and fifth Group 1 victory.

Australian trainer warns The Everest is not “one-horse race”

Wednesday, 15/10/2025

Michael Hawkes, co-trainer of leading Australian sprinter Briasa, welcomes Ka Ying Rising’s presence in the AU$20 million (approx. HK$101 million) G1 The Everest on Saturday (18 October) at Royal Randwick in Sydney, Australia, but warned the world’s richest turf race is not a “one-horse race.”

Bidding to provide businessman and passionate racehorse owner Mr Leung Shek Kong of the Ka Ying Syndicate with defining international success this weekend, Ka Ying Rising has dominated pre-race discussions after compiling a 13-race winning streak in Hong Kong, crowned by record-breaking performances over 1200m at Sha Tin.

But Hawkes, who trains in partnership with his father John and brother Wayne, believes Briasa could foil the ambitions of Mr Leung, David Hayes and Zac Purton of Ka Ying Rising becoming Hong Kong, China’s first winner of The Everest.

“It’s never been a one-horse race in our opinion and we’ve just got him peaking right on the day,” Hawkes said of Briasa, spectacular last-start winner of the G2 Premiere Stakes (1200m) at Royal Randwick – the gelding’s second course and distance win.

“We believe that we’ve always had the right horse for the race, we’ve believed in this horse since day one. He’s going to be peaking, he worked amazing on Tuesday morning (14 October) and he just seems to be getting better and better and I don’t really know where he’s at, to be honest.

“Ka Ying Rising is a superstar in Hong Kong. It’s great for racing that he’s here but we’ve got a job to do.

“(In the) Premiere Stakes, everyone saw how well he performed. Tyler (Schiller) rode him brilliantly, the speed was hot and he just come up that rise with a lapful of horse. He’s taken great benefit from that and third-up was always going to be when he was going to peak – and we’ve always primed him for that.”

While Ka Ying Rising will start in gate seven – a draw which delighted Hayes – Briasa will jump from barrier 10.

“It’s not ideal. Everyone wants to draw that inside gate – three, four, five – but there’s a lot of speed inside and this race is different. There are no rules,” Hawkes said.

“You can have the best horse in the race but you don’t always win. He (Briasa) is the right horse, we believe in him. So, it will come down to how it’s run, the tempo, jockeys jostling for positions. I know Tyler’s in the zone, we’re in the zone, our horse is in the zone. You’ve just got to keep a straight mind and say ‘Hey, this is what we need to do’ and get the job done.”

Briasa’s two 1200m wins at Royal Randwick have come from barriers two and three, respectively.

Bjorn Baker’s Overpass will make his third appearance in The Everest after finishing sixth in 2022 and 10th in 2023.

The seven-year-old, who finished second ahead of third-placed Ka Ying Rising in a 1000m barrier trial at Royal Randwick last week, is expected to set the pace in The Everest with Mazu after drawing barrier nine.

“He’s a fast horse, we’ll look to use that speed and I think he’s set up to run well. He’s set up to be very quick out of the gates and we’ll use that natural speed on Saturday,” Baker said. “He’s definitely a lot better fresher and we’ve learnt that over time, he’s best when he’s fresh and if he produces his absolute best, he’s not out of it.”

Speaking in Sydney, Mr Leung said: “I appreciate the TAB and the ATC (Australian Turf Club) for helping us to join The Everest. I’m very excited for the race on Saturday, but I’m not too worried about the result, whether we win, run second or worse, it’s just a very big honour to be a part of the race on Saturday.

“I just want to enjoy everything and I hope the horse enjoys the race as well. I’m loving Sydney, the weather is good and not too humid.”

James McDonald labels Ka Ying Rising an absolute superstar, but sounds Everest warning

Thursday, 16/10/2025

James McDonald, the only jockey so far to inflict defeat on Ka Ying Rising, has declared the world's top-rated sprinter "an absolute superstar" but warns the Hong Kong champion will need to be at his best to win the AU$20 million (approx. HK$101 million) G1 The Everest (1200m) on Saturday (18 October) at Royal Randwick in Sydney, Australia.

McDonald, who twice toppled Ka Ying Rising on Wunderbar at Sha Tin in January, 2024, will ride Chris Waller's Joliestar this weekend and believes The Everest's unrelenting pressure will present a formidable challenge to Ka Ying Rising.

"He's a superstar, he's an absolute superstar. If he brings his Sha Tin form, he's almost sometimes impossible to beat the way his figures read. I've ridden some good horses against him and he's made them look pretty second rate, to be fair," McDonald said.

"But this is a different kettle of fish. This is probably the toughest test to date for him and he's going to know he's in a horse race, especially with the likes of Jimmysstar, Briasa, Joliestar and Lady Shenandoah coming at him. He's going to have to be at the top of his game."

McDonald is chasing his second victory in The Everest after triumphing on Waller's Nature Strip in 2021.

Waller has three runners in Saturday's feature – Joliestar, Lady Shenandoah and Angel Capital – and welcomes the presence of Ka Ying Rising.

"The best thing about Ka Ying Rising being in the race is that it brings an international flavour to this year's event and that's what we want to see here in Australia – we've got the best sprinters in the world and we take them overseas and normally get it right," he said.

"So, to see the horse coming here with the world's highest rating, Australia has got something to prove.

"There's so much international flavour but having that gives more credit to the race, it's taking the world by imagination and everybody will be watching The Everest on Saturday afternoon and let's hope that Australia – our horses – can beat Ka Ying Rising because he's a superstar."

Waller compared The Everest to an Olympic Games 100m track final.

"All three of ours are, in my eyes, good enough to win the race and every horse will have to be at their best to win the race. It's just a great contest. It's not different to an Olympic sprint final – everyone has to be at on their game, get a good clean start and have everything go their way and you need to be strong over the last metres of the race," he said.

"There's only going to be two or three metres from first to sixth placing. It's the best of the best coming together on Saturday at Randwick. It's an exciting race, the build-up has been huge, it's a sell-out crowd. They're all eager to find out the result.

"All I can say is Joliestar, she's a mature mare now, she's in the zone now, great first-up win. Lady Shenandoah is coming off that defeat, but there were legitimate reasons for it and we think she's a rising star and will be there next year in The Everest as well.

"And Angel Capital is the unknown. He's a rising star, like Lady Shenandoah, he hasn't won at the elite level yet but the things we see at home on the training track are quite phenomenal and if he brings that to the races from his good draw (three), he could beat them all."

Ka Ying Rising will start from barrier seven under Zac Purton on Saturday (18 October).

Hayes says Ka Ying Rising is on target ahead of The Everest

Thursday, 16/10/2025

Suited by likely fast track conditions, improved fitness and a favourable barrier draw, Ka Ying Rising is poised to threaten Royal Randwick's 1200m course record in the AU$20 million (approx. HK$101 million) G1 The Everest on Saturday (18 October) in Sydney, Australia, according to trainer David Hayes.

Hayes was elated when his four-time Group 1 winner drew gate seven in the world's richest turf race, explaining the barrier gives eight-time Hong Kong champion jockey Zac Purton tactical options in the 600m run to the start of Randwick's long dogleg turn into the home straight.

"Normally you don't go for records because you don't get paid anything extra for it, but I'd say if the conditions are right on the weekend, he'll (Ka Ying Rising) give the record a shake," Hayes said.

"When he's on song, his last 13 runs he's either broken the record in Hong Kong, or he's nearly broken it easing down, not trying. He runs near track-record times every time he runs.

"Zac says he's got a lot of improvement, and he still makes mistakes. He always talks about him being on the wrong leg. When he changes legs, that's when he comes on – and Zac thinks when he changes legs, that's when he breaks track records."

Ka Ying Rising broke Sacred Kingdom's longstanding Sha Tin 1200m record – a mark which had stood since 2007 – with a gallop of 1m 07.43s in the G2 BOCHK Private Banking Jockey Club Sprint (1200m) in November 2024 before smashing it in the G1 Centenary Sprint Cup (1200m) on 19 January with a time of 1m 07.20s.

Hayes concedes track records are a secondary objective as Ka Ying Rising vies against 11 rivals for The Everest's winners' purse of AU$7 million (approx. HK$35.8 million), but said: "Zac thinks the horse is capable of breaking his own record any time he wants."

Adding to Hayes' trademark confidence was Ka Ying Rising's barrier draw of gate seven, while two of the gelding's major rivals have drawn in double figures – Briasa (gate 10) and Jimmysstar (barrier 11).

Joliestar (five) and Lady Shenandoah (six) fared better while Tempted (barrier one), Mazu (two), Angel Capital (three), War Machine (four), Jedibeel (eight), Overpass (nine) and Magic Time (12) endured mixed fortunes.

Chris Waller's Lady Shenandoah, Joliestar and Angel Capital shape as the main danger to Ka Ying Rising after drawing favourable barriers.

"It's an incredibly intriguing race so to have any interest, let alone three runners, is fantastic," Waller's assistant trainer Charlie Duckworth said. "All three of our horses have drawn incredibly well to get the perfect runs."

James McDonald, who won the 2021 Everest on Waller-trained Nature Strip, decided before the barrier draw he would ride Joliestar instead of Lady Shenandoah, who will be piloted by Damian Lane.

Duckworth said of McDonald's decision: "It's obviously very tricky. He's got a good affiliation with two of the three horses. It was a group decision. Ultimately, he's got an amazing affiliation with Joliestar. She's the second favourite; he's the champion jockey, so he's entitled to be riding the best Sydney has to offer."

Purton craves Everest glory aboard Ka Ying Rising

Friday, 17/10/2025

Already one of the most decorated jockeys on the international stage, Zac Purton says success aboard Ka Ying Rising in the AU$20 million (approx. HK$101 million) G1 The Everest (1200m) on Saturday (18 October) at Royal Randwick in Sydney, Australia would represent a career pinnacle.

With a record 1,897 Hong Kong wins and 47 Group 1 victories around the world, Purton said victory in The Everest “would sit right up there”.

“The rate that it (The Everest) has grown in Australia has been quite phenomenal. The field they get every year, the interest the race creates and the money that it’s worth, it’s up there with the elite races in the world now,” the eight-time Hong Kong champion jockey said.

“My phone doesn’t normally ring as much as it has been in the past week. I’ve done a lot of interviews – radio, video, journalists calling – and then I’ve just been watching a lot of it on social media myself.

“It’s great to see how much attention it’s created in the mainstream media in Australia. They’ve really grabbed hold of him (Ka Ying Rising) and grabbed hold of the race. It’s putting a lot of extra eyeballs on our sport, which is a good thing.

“I can’t remember a race and especially a horse going into a race with as much attention as what he’s been able to create. It’s been good but obviously we have a job to do and that’s what I’m more concerned about.”

Purton is happy with Ka Ying Rising’s barrier draw of seven as the gelding bids to become the first international to land the world’s richest turf race.

“I think the barrier is pretty good. I would have preferred to have drawn inside Lady Shenandoah (gate six) and Joliestar (five) but I still think it’s OK,” he said.

“Mazu (gate two) inside will show a bit of speed and Overpass (nine) outside will be looking to go forward, so I’ll just let him (Ka Ying Rising) show whatever speed he wants to show and just ride him how the race is unfolding and how he feels like he wants to be ridden.”

Purton is cautiously optimistic Ka Ying Rising has improved physically under trainer David Hayes’ guidance since his third in a 1000m barrier trial at Royal Randwick last week.

“I haven’t been on him so it’s hard for me to get a proper understanding of how much he’s tightened up and how he feels, but David is happy with him and his weight seems to be in a better place,” Purton said. “He’s had the extra piece of work … so hopefully that’s enough.

“I just hope for the horse’s sake that the real Ka Ying Rising turns up on the weekend because I think he deserves it. I’ve ridden a lot of good horses in my life, and I know how good I think he is.

“I just hope that version of Ka Ying Rising is the version that turns up on the weekend. He doesn’t need to destroy them – he just needs to get the job done. He’s got the weight of expectation from the market as well, so we’re not the only ones that hope the real one turns up.”

After supervising Ka Ying Rising’s final pre-race fast work at Canterbury Racecourse on Thursday (16 October), Hayes said: “He was terrific today. He just did his final piece of striding work, really having a good roll and feeling good after it, so we’re pretty confident that he’s right up with his best.”

The Everest is carded as S1-2 and will be run at 1.15pm (Hong Kong time).

Overseas Expert Column by Brett Davis

ROYAL SUPREMACY began his career in the United Kingdom winning two low grade 2YO races before being placed at Ascot and Newmarket as a 3YO. He also finished second in the G2 Derby Italiano before relocating to Australia where he was positioned under the high-grade care of Ciaron Maher. He then enjoyed a year away from the racetrack to acclimatise and find his way with the lengthy absence a blessing in disguise from what we're now seeing. A win in the G1 The Metropolitan at Randwick recently brands him a serious player in this event, so expect him to run well.

HALF YOURS won his first two races under the care of Ciaron Maher and David Eustace before transferring to the yard of Tony and Calvin McEvoy. During that time, he's developed into an outstanding staying prospect winning the listed Caloundra Cup over 2400m by a big space, before the G3 Naturalism Stakes at Caulfield with relative ease. His final preparation hit out in the G1 Turnbull Stakes at Flemington recently was precisely what you'd want to see coming into this coveted G1 event, and he'll saddle up perfectly alongside an extremely advantageous light weight.

VALIANT KING got under the guard of many form analysts at Flemington in the G3 The Bart Cummings over 2520m recently after belting home off the back of a furious pace to win. He's on his way to a second G1 Melbourne Cup in a few weeks' time, courtesy of that performance, but I wouldn't exclude him completely from the conversation today. He produced a solid effort in this event last year when the winner raced up on speed and it's highly probable he's come back better this campaign.

MIDDLE EARTH arrived in Australia from England as a progressive young stayer and this spring carnival has been his primary target all the way along. His three runs back from a winter spell suggest he's tracking along nicely with today's feature race over the 2400m exactly what he's craving. He's still to prove that he's got what it takes around the tighter Caulfield circuit, but I'll be surprised if he doesn't run a solid and competitive race.

DEAKIN also began his career in the northern hemisphere and has already secured his position in this year's edition of the G1 Melbourne Cup. He and jockey Daniel Stackhouse have slowly built towards today, and the next few weeks, via three solid runs back from a winter spell. Like MIDDLE EARTH, both are on target to perform at a high level, and the anticipated fast pace should allow them to work into the finish down the home stretch.

Track Analysis by Brett Davis

Caulfield Racecourse is one of the four major racecourses in Melbourne and is located nine kilometres from the city's CBD in the southeastern part of the city. It plays host to major races like the Blue Diamond Stakes, Oakleigh Plate and Futurity Stakes in the autumn, while the Caulfield Cup is the jewel in the crown for its part of the Spring Racing Carnival. Caulfield is a relatively tight turning left-handed track, with a circumference of 2080m, and a home straight length of 367m.

The G1 Caulfield Cup is the feature event on the third day of the Caulfield Cup Carnival, with the Caulfield Guineas having been run prior and the Coongy Cup leading into the race, therefore, the track will have been well used by the time of the Cup.

Run over 2400m, the Caulfield Cup starts at the top of the straight. Barrier positions are important given the short run to the first turn that the field faces, and recent history suggests that it is an advantage to draw a middle to inside barrier. While the likes of DUNADEN, BEST SOLUTION, MER DE GLACE and INCENTIVISE have all won the race from wide draws in recent years, this year's renewal of the Caulfield Cup looks very open, so factors like the barrier draw become even more significant in an instance like this. From the 2000m mark to the 1200m mark, the runners gallop uphill, before making their way to the railway side at around the 900m, which is where the race often starts to heat up. They will race for 500m along that side of the course before turning into the home straight.

Expected favourite Half Yours ready for G1 Caulfield Cup challenge

Thursday, 16/10/2025

Australia's leading female jockey Jamie Melham declared light-weight gelding Half Yours the perfect horse to tackle Saturday's (18 October) G1 Caulfield Cup (2400m).

Half Yours, trained by father and son duo Tony & Calvin McEvoy, has had a meteoric rise through the ranks to progress from winning a restricted 1600m race at Seymour in April to taking out the G3 Naturalism Stakes (2000m) at Caulfield on 20 September.

In his last run on 4 October, the five-year-old finished fourth in the G1 Turnbull Stakes (2000m) at Flemington, beaten just under three lengths.

It was an effort that thrilled the trainers and Melham.

"That was an exciting race, the Turnbull. The fastest last 600 (metres) and 200 of the race, taking ground off Via Sistina – she's no hack is she?," Melham said. "It was a very nice lead-up I thought."

Melham said Half Yours could perform on any track condition and described the gelding as "push button".

"You can push him early, get him to settle and think he is just a perfect horse for that race," she said.

Half Yours was handed a 1.5kg (3.3lb) weight penalty for the Caulfield Cup after winning the Naturalism Stakes and will now carry 52.5kg (116lb).

Calvin McEvoy said drawing barrier two was a huge advantage for Half Yours, who has won six of his 13 races, with three seconds.

"It's really good, these are high pressure contests and we watch replays and the pressure comes on a long way out. So drawn inside with a horse that can hold a spot is going to mean that he is going to get a restful first half of the race which I think is so important," McEvoy said.

"We know he can absorb pressure. We couldn't be more happier with the barrier."

Gai Waterhouse & Adrian Bott's top weight Vauban drew barrier 13, but it hasn't concerned the stable after the gelding ran a close fifth in the G1 The Metropolitan (2400m) at Royal Randwick on 4 October.

"He is thriving and has done very well," Waterhouse said. "He got very far back in The Metrop and chased the winner home."

International raiders – the Simon & Ed Crisford-trained Meydaan, the Willie Mullins-trained Absurde and Japanese mare Golden Snap, trained by Katsunori Tanaka, are all hoping for a slice of the AU$5 million (approx. HK$25 million) prize money.

Tanaka said Golden Snap, who drew the outside barrier 18, could be hard to handle and that's the reason why he has flown in Japanese jockey Suguru Hamanaka.

He said the mare lacked the same profile as previous Japanese raiders such as Admire Rakti and Mer De Glace who are Caulfield Cup winners.

"She's probably not as proven as the other Japanese horses that have come over here in the last few years," Tanaka said. "I think she's the right candidate as she's really lightly handicapped and her form is suited to racing in Australia."

But he said she was well-weighted on 118lb.

Hong Kong-based Andrea Atzeni has been booked to ride the highly-rated Meydaan who has been placed second and third in his past two starts at Group 3 level at 2398m and 2399m in England.

Leading trainers Chris Waller and Ciaron Maher have seven runners in the 18-horse field.

Maher, who trained last year's Caulfield Cup winner Duke De Sessa, will saddle Middle Earth, Zardozi and Royal Supremacy, while Waller has Land Legend, River Of Stars, Birdman and Valiant King.

Irish-born Robbie Dolan, who rode last year's Melbourne Cup long shot winner Knight's Choice, has been booked to ride Royal Supremacy who drew barrier six.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The first running of this valuable 1200m 2YO conditions race has attracted some talented runners.

DIVISION, who cost almost £850,000 as a yearling, has started to justify that price tag. He was beaten on debut in a 1211m Windsor novice in August but subsequently won similar events at Haydock and Yarmouth in September with significantly improved performances. The William Haggas-trained colt makes a quick reappearance after winning a Listed 1200m race at York last Saturday, asserting decisively in the last 100m.

WORDS OF TRUTH has looked good enough to run in one of the big G1 end-of-season 2YO races, but he was gelded following his unplaced debut in a 1200m maiden at Newbury in May so was not eligible for colts-only races. Since then, William Buick's mount has looked straightforward, winning all his three 1200m starts. WORDS OF TRUTH, who will start as local favourite, has course and distance winning form, having landed a maiden here in July and he proved his ground versatility when successful in the G2 Mill Reef Stakes at Newbury on soft ground last month when WATCHA SNOOP was well behind.

SIR ALBERT has flourished as the season progressed. He opened his winning account in a 1200m novice at Newcastle in June before registering 1400m handicap wins at Chester and Goodwood in July. His best run came in defeat when third in a 1405m Listed race at Doncaster last month, where the runner-up in that race has since won at G3 level.

SIREN SUIT ran twice over 1000m in April, doing particularly well on the second of those starts when finishing strongly for third at this track to a subsequent G1 winner. It was earlier this month before he ran again, easily winning a 1400m maiden at Kempton. He faces much stiffer opposition, but he looks capable of significant improvement. He is one of the most interesting outsiders.

Race-hardened ARDISIA has won five of his 10 races, three of those wins coming after he was gelded in July. His best performance was his last run when he overcame a difficult draw to win a 1197m Listed race at Redcar two weeks ago when he gave weight to most of his rivals.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

FLORA OF BERMUDA is a little unfortunate not to have already won a G1 prize and the 1200m British Champions Sprint Stakes gives her a good opportunity for top-level success. She didn't get the breaks when third behind LAZZAT over today's course and distance in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II Jubilee Stakes over 1200m at Royal Ascot in June and she ran into traffic when filling the same position behind BIG MOJO in Haydock's G1 Sprint Cup Stakes over 1200m last month. There's no doubt she has the ability to win this prestigious race if she's granted a bit more luck.

BIG MOJO came good when beating KIND OF BLUE in the G1 Sprint Cup Stakes at Haydock last month. Michael Appleby's speedster did have a decent draw towards the stands' rail but there was certainly no fluke about the victory. He might have landed a G1 prize earlier in the summer had he raced from a more favourable stall when runner-up in the G1 July Cup over 1200m at Newmarket. His victory in a 1200m G3 race at Ascot in April shows he has no problem with the demands of this track.

LAZZAT is another runner with smart course-and-distance form. Jerome Reynier's French raider made all the running to win the G1 Queen Elizabeth II Jubilee Stakes at Royal Ascot in June. He clearly had the run of the race on that occasion, but things didn't go as smoothly when fifth behind BIG MOJO in Haydock's G1 Sprint Cup Stakes last month.

KING CUAN looked a smart prospect when winning three races from four starts as a 2YO a couple of years ago.
He missed the whole of last year but has returned from his enforced absence better than ever. After landing a three-runner Fairyhouse maiden in June, he has gone on to prove himself in higher grades. He was unlucky to be beaten a neck by ART POWER in a Curragh G3 over 1200m last month and he wouldn't have to improve too much on his best form to be a player in this higher grade.

RAYEVKA – third in the G1 Commonwealth Cup over this course and distance at Royal Ascot – will appreciate the return to this distance after finishing runner-up in a 1000m G3 at Longchamp last month.

Very good on his day, and a G1 Royal Ascot winner over this trip in 2024 also returning from a break to win a G2 at York in May. Three runs since have lacked the same flair.

A G1 Haydock sprint winner last year, running a decent fifth in this subsequently. Could not go the pace in a 1031m Newbury G3 on his return last month but that should have set him up for this. Slow ground preferred.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

Three-year-olds have beaten their elders in eight of the last 10 renewals of this race, but on form last year's winner KALPANA stands head and shoulders above the rest. She has not won this season, but she produced a career-best performance when pushing the brilliant CALANDAGAN all the way to the line in the G1 King George VI And Queen Elizabeth Stakes over 2392m at Ascot in July. KALPANA could finish only seventh in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe over 2400m at Longchamp two weeks ago, but she was given a wider-than-ideal ride and was still only a length off finishing in the frame.

Maybe BEDTIME STORY is the pick of the younger brigade. She was a high-class 2YO, producing a phenomenal performance at Royal Ascot when clocking up a runaway victory on fast ground in the Chesham Stakes over 1400m. And while she, too, is winless in 2025, Aidan O'Brien's filly has been placed twice in G1 company, the Prix de Diane over 2100m at Chantilly and the Prix Vermeille over 2400m at Longchamp. We can forget BEDTIME STORY's last run over 2800m in testing ground at Longchamp as she is all about speed, not stamina. She will be much more at home on these faster conditions, and, knowing what she achieved on her previous visit to Ascot, she must be short-listed.

In contrast, ONE LOOK ran poorly at this year's Royal meeting, beating only one home in the G2 Duke Of Cambridge Stakes over 1594m. However, she has thrived since going up in trip, finishing a close third in the Prix de l'Opera over 2000m at Longchamp, her first tilt at G1 company. She might improve again for this extra distance.

There's also lots to like about WEMIGHTAKEDLONGWAY, who produced a career-best when second to subsequent Arc runner-up MINNIE HAUK in the G1 Irish Oaks over 2400m at the Curragh in July. WEMIGHTAKEDLONGWAY was then only a neck behind ONE LOOK in the G1 Prix de l'Opera over 2000m, which was her first run after nearly three months off, so she is likely to improve again.

ESTRANGE, who has won four of her six races, missed last week's Arc because of a dirty scope. She chased home MINNIE HAUK in the G1 Yorkshire Oaks over 2371m last time, but connections are praying for rain.

Smart acceleration won her four consecutive French races – including a Deauville G1. Raced too keenly on unsuitably slow ground in the Arc. Could easily bounce back on a quicker surface.

An exciting filly who didn't resent a major trip rise when surging past rivals to win a 2800m G2 at Goodwood in August. Will handle this shorter journey well. Slow ground preferred.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The Queen Elizabeth II Stakes over 1600m is another one of the G1 races on British Champions Day and is open to horses aged three years or older.

Richard Hannon's ROSALLION is a proven top-level performer, having landed last year's G1 St James's Palace Stakes over 1600m. He's been ultra-consistent this season with three narrow seconds in G1 company. He finished a nose behind DOCKLANDS in the G1 Queen Anne Stakes over 1600m at Royal Ascot and a neck off QIRAT in the G1 Sussex Stakes over 1600m, when coming home in front of FIELD OF GOLD that day. Most recently he went down by a short head in the G1 Prix du Moulin de Longchamp over 1600m. Everything looks to be coming together for him, with the good ground in his favour. He's been desperately unlucky not to win a G1 this season, and this could finally be his turn.

FIELD OF GOLD's season began with victory in the G3 Craven Stakes over 1600m before a disappointing second in the G1 2000 Guineas Stakes over 1600m, having been talked up as a potential star of his generation. Since then, he's bounced back in style, winning both the G1 Irish 2000 Guineas over 1600m and the G1 St James's Palace Stakes over 1594m. He wasn't at his best at Goodwood last time, but in QIRAT's pacesetting triumph, FIELD OF GOLD still finished ahead of DOCKLANDS. If returning to his form from earlier in the season, he would be a major threat to all.

Harry Eustace's DOCKLANDS is yet to finish out of the places in seven starts at Ascot. He landed a first G1 in the Queen Anne Stakes in June, just edging out ROSALLION. Since then, he has finished fifth in the G1 Sussex Stakes, before another solid enough effort when a close fourth in the G1 Prix Jacques le Marois over 1600m. Being back on the straight track at Ascot will definitely play to his strengths.

NEVER SO BRAVE lines up for Andrew Balding. A hat-trick of wins in his last three starts makes him the form horse in the field. Most recently, he took the G1 City Of York Stakes over 1400m, finishing a length ahead of ROSALLION. He's proven over this trip, having also scored over this distance in the G2 Summer Mile Stakes at Ascot in July, and should go well again.

FACTEUR CHEVAL should not be overlooked. One of the few French raiders making the trip to England, he demands respect. Jerome Reynier's gelding hasn't been at his best this season but having finished runner-up in this race for the last two years, he's a major player to hit the frame again.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The feature on Ascot's Champions Day card is the G1 Champion Stakes over 1993m for 3YOs and older. Saturday's showpiece is certainly not lacking depth, with a top-class field assembled for one of the races of the season.

It is currently honours even between DELACROIX and OMBUDSMAN in two clashes this season, and while strong cases can be made for both, it may be wise to side with DELACROIX this time around. Aidan O'Brien's runners are in flying form, and DELACROIX was most impressive last time when winning the G1 Irish Champion Stakes over 2000m last month. He was no match for OMBUDSMAN in their most recent meeting in the G1 International Stakes over 2051m, but winning connections pulled off a tactical masterclass and Ballydoyle ought to be more streetwise to that this time around.

DELACROIX's prior defeat of OMBUDSMAN in the G1 Eclipse Stakes over 1990m looks a truer reflection of form, and he's the marginal pick, with the Godolphin 4YO expected to run him very close under William Buick.

CALANDAGAN arrives here off the back of two G1 victories. Victorious in the Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud, and then King George VI And Queen Elizabeth Stakes at this venue, both over 2400m, he looks to have figured out how to get his head in front after four consecutive second-placed finishes. He was an unlucky loser in the 2024 renewal of this race, when short for room throughout and trapped on the rail, eventually finishing second despite never being able to hit full stride. That form puts him right at the top of considerations here, but with two of the best 2000m horses in opposition, he might well have to settle for the places again.

FOX LEGACY is pitched into Group company for the first time here. On the face of it, it looks a lofty assignment but the way he blew apart a strong conditions race at Goodwood suggested he was worth pitching in. Taking the lead three furlongs from home, he pulled clear of the field with ease and gave connections the office to aim at a race of this nature.

ALMERIC is the unexposed one in the field. A winner of three of his four starts to date, he gets a nice chunk of weight as a 3YO in the contest, but might lack the class of his elders.

MOUNT KILIMANJARO led last start and he can lead once again. DEVIL'S ADVOCATE also can lead and he should go forward from his wide draw. FOX LEGACY has the inside draw and can get into the trail. OMBUDSMAN should settle midfield. DELACROIX and CALANDAGAN will be near the rear.

S3-5: G1 Champion Stakes

This looks like it's between three; CALANDAGAN, DELACROIX and OMBUDSMAN.

I know DELACROIX best of them all. He won his two starts at Leopardstown well and then didn't stay in the Derby. He dropped back in trip and won the Eclipse, beating Ombudsman, and while Ombudsman turned that form around in the Juddmonte at York, it was a messy race.

He went back to Leopardstown and won the Irish Champion impressively and I think the round 1m2f (2000m) at Ascot will suit him very well. I'd be hoping he can win.

OMBUDSMAN has had a good season and is entitled to be favourite on his Ascot form. He was very good here at the Royal meeting and will go close if reproducing that.

CALANDAGAN loves Ascot and has rock-solid form. He's back slightly in trip, but I don't think that will inconvenience him.

Those are three of the best horses in the world and they set a very high bar for the rest.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

NATIVE WARRIOR has been in fine form of late and he can extend his recent winning run by securing victory in Challenge Cup over 1600m at Ascot. The Karl Burke-trained gelding has impressed on his last two starts at the track with victories in two 1400m handicaps to make it three wins from four starts since being fitted with a visor, which is retained here. This represents a step back up in distance, but he has finished well in his last two races which suggests he should have no problem in seeing out the trip, despite being given another rise in the weights.

SHOUT was an impressive winner of a 1600m handicap on his last start and a repeat of that performance will put him right in the mix again. The Simon and Ed Crisford-trained gelding gained that success on soft ground and while conditions will be much quicker here, he has winning form on a fast surface last year. He faces a taller order after being handed a rise in the weights for that win, but with his course and distance form proven he should still be a leading player.

WITCH HUNTER finished a close up third in the race 12 months ago and he looks set for another bold bid after scoring in a 1413m handicap at Newcastle on his last start. Although he is yet to win over 1600m he has posted some good efforts in defeat over this distance and the slightly better conditions are likely to help him see out the trip much better.

OLIVER SHOW finished a good second in the Lincoln over 1600m at Doncaster on his return to action and he has slipped back down in the weights, which should make him competitive. His run at the track in the Buckingham Palace Stakes over 1400m can be forgiven as he was left in the stalls for a long time. And although he hung slightly left in his last start at Newcastle, he was denied a clear run before finishing well to suggest he is ready for his return to this trip.

CROWN OF OAKS failed to back up his impressive 2000m handicap success in soft ground at the track when turned around quickly over the same trip at the Curragh. Although this represents a drop back in trip, on much quicker ground, he still remains lightly raced and capable of further improvement having been given a short freshen up.

Track Analysis by Tim Carroll

Ascot is a large right-handed galloping triangular shaped track, just over 2800m in circumference, with a straight run of 500m on the round course. There is a straight 1600m course, which all races below 1600m are held. There are two start points for races run over 1600m, one on the round course and the other on the straight course.

The track was redeveloped in 2005 and the ground in the straight drains quicker than the rest of the course, meaning ground descriptions can vary. Being a large track with an uphill finish dragging almost the entire straight (including the length of the straight course), Ascot suits hold-up horses, and front-runners need to be ridden conservatively to ensure they save energy, although on-pace runners do tend to perform strongly over the 1000m.

Feature Race

G1 Champion Stakes (1993m)

Over 1993m they start on the back straight and travel downhill for approximately 200m, before levelling out at Swindley Bottom, route turning into a straight that sees a steady rise to the home turn. They then enter the 500m home straight and run uphill until the finish. The G1 Champion Stakes is a race that is usually won by a very good horse with FRANKEL, ALMANZOR, CRACKSMAN, and 2013 Hong Kong Cup third, CIRRUS DES AIGLES, among recent winners. During the last ten running's barriers have been of no consequence.

Other Races

G1 British Champions Sprint Stakes & 2yo Conditions (1200m)

Over 1200m, the low barriers are drawn on the far side with high numbers closest to the grandstand rail. In smaller fields they tend to come down the middle, but in larger fields they can split into two and even three groups. The straight draw results will vary, but it is advisable to look for the speed angle, especially in larger fields, as the winner usually comes from where the pace is, and results are more pace dependent than draw dependent.

G1 British Champions Fillies & Mares Stakes (2392m)

Over the 2393m, runner start from the highest point of the course, which is on the left-hand side of the track after the winning post. From there they head downhill for nearly 400m before levelling out at Swindley Bottom then turning into a straight that sees a steady rise to the home turn. They then enter the 500m home straight and run uphill until the finish. During the last ten running's, barriers have been of no consequence.

G1 Queen Elizabeth II Stakes & Balmoral Handicap (1600m)

On the straight course, low barriers are drawn on the far side with high numbers closest to the grandstand rail. The straight 1600m sees similar principles to the 1200m regarding where the runners will head. However, with the straight course being uphill nearly all the way, the further they go the more it suits horses ridden patiently, and those ridden with restraint normally do well.

Ascot will host world-class horses and big fields on Saturday

Friday, 17/10/2025

The G1 Champion Stakes (1993m) at Ascot on Saturday (18 October) is arguably the UK's race of the season with three of the world's pre-eminent middle-distance horses set to clash, along with a highly gifted supporting cast among the 11-horse field.

The other five World Pool races are also packed with quality as well as quantity and the G1 Queen Elizabeth II Stakes (1600m) over Ascot's straight course prompted Philip Robinson, a former dual Champion Jockey in Hong Kong and now racing manager for Saeed Suhail-owned Never So Brave, to say: "Without a doubt this is the best Group 1 mile race of the year."

Ombudsman has been saved for the Champion Stakes and it is easy to see the argument for the John & Thady Gosden-trained bay colt.

Though beaten a neck into second by Saturday's rival Delacroix (Christophe Soumillon) in Sandown's G1 Eclipse Stakes (1990m), William Buick's mount emphatically reversed form with a three-and-a-half-length winning margin in the G1 International Stakes (2051m) at York in August.

That form looks mighty strong with Delacroix subsequently winning the G1 Irish Champion Stakes (2000m), while subsequent G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe (2400m) winner Daryz finished way behind at York.

Moreover, Birr Castle – who proved such an effective pacemaker for Ombudsman at York that he briefly threatened a huge shock victory – has been replaced in that same role at Ascot by Devil's Advocate, supplemented for his persuasive early speed.

Then there is Calandagan, brilliant winner of June's G1 Grand Prix de Saint-Cloud (2400m) and July's G1 King George VI And Queen Elizabeth Stakes (2392m) at Ascot. He was second in this last year, after which Francis-Henri Graffard – champion trainer-elect in France – blamed himself for getting the tactics wrong when the gelding was grabbed late on by shock winner Anmaat.

Graffard says of Calandagan, who had been working stride-for-stride with Daryz just before that Arc victory: "He is in great shape and I hope that he can be competitive against Ombudsman and Delacroix and prove that he is one of the best horses in Europe, which I believe he is."

Never So Brave (Oisin Murphy) has come a long way in a short space of time ahead of his bid for the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes. He was handicapping two races before his Group 1 victory in August's City Of York Stakes (1400m).

The competition will be ferocious with 16 runners declared, including Field Of Gold (Colin Keane), whose memorable victories in the Curragh's G1 Irish 2000 Guineas (1600m) and Royal Ascot's G1 St James's Palace Stakes (1594m) suggested that he was one of the best milers seen in the UK in recent years. There may have been legitimate excuses for the striking grey's underwhelming display in Goodwood's G1 Sussex Stakes (1600m) and Brian Mahon, racing manager to owners Juddmonte, said: "Field Of Gold is back in great form and hopefully can again show us just how good he is."

The Champion Stakes is carded as S3-5 and will be run at 11:05pm (Hong Kong time) on Saturday, 18 October; Queen Elizabeth II Stakes is carded as S3-4 and will be run at 10:25pm (Hong Kong time).
