Overseas Expert Column by Brett Davis

JOLIESTAR returned to racing this campaign in the G2 The Shorts at Randwick and delivered a dazzling winning display. The performance was sensational in all areas after she sat back wide before unleashing her electrifying final burst. The three-time G1 winner was then forced to race wide in the G1 The Everest, won by Hong Kong champion KA YING RISING, but continued chasing hard to the line. Trainer Chris Waller has since kept her comfortable and fresh and she'll no doubt be ready to uphold her undefeated winning record over this course and trip.

TENTYRIS is raced by the power of Godolphin and secured a position at stud with an almighty runaway victory on Derby Day in the G1 Coolmore Stud Stakes. He completely overwhelmed the opposition through the final 300m with a blasting and explosive turn of foot. This 3YO emerging star must now stand up against the older horses under the scale of weight for age, and with his record over 1200m at Flemington almost unrivalled, it's highly anticipated he'll be talented enough to cope.

GIGA KICK hadn't been able to win since the G1 Doomben 10,000 in May 2023 but was back to his brilliant best in the G2 Schillaci Stakes first up. The multiple Group one winner wasn't involved in much racing over the past twelve months with efforts clearly focused on getting him physically and mentally right. That approach paid fully dividends at Caulfield after he sat back quietly early on before blasting down the home stretch to win with incredible ease. I've been excited by what I've seen of him over the past two months and won't be at all surprised if he's at the level required to win.

CABALLUS was an exciting 3YO in the spring of 2024 winning twice in Sydney before finishing third here at Flemington over 1200m in the Inglis Sprint. He then lost his way and form became patchy before eventually winning a country race at Scone in May this year. A brief winter spell was enjoyed thereafter because he was brilliant upon return in the G3 Sydney Stakes. He then got the money last Saturday in the G3 Rising Fast Stakes but his sectional times were inferior to those of TENTYRIS who won later the same day.

TROPICUS brought up a third career victory first up in the G3 The Heath 1100 at Caulfield over 1100m with a dominant front running display. He then went back to the races in the G2 Schillaci Stakes, with Damian Lane aboard, but was outclassed by the power of GIGA KICK in the home straight. The change of venue to a straight 1200m event should be acknowledged as a risk, but he'll enjoy the probable cushion in the track whilst setting up the race pace.
