Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

Last year's first and second from the Listed Tuwaiq Cup over 1800m might once again be the ones to fight out the finish.

SCOTLAND YARD was a comfortable winner 12 months ago, defeating WAQTUK by five-and-a-half lengths. While on his best form SCOTLAND YARD remains the one to beat, he hasn't been at his best in two starts this campaign. He may have needed the run when finishing behind WEBINAR on his return to action over 1800m in December, but it was disappointing he could only manage fifth in the G3 The Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques Cup over 1800m most recently. On that occasion, WAQTUK travelled better than SCOTLAND YARD and finished two lengths ahead of him in third, so he could confirm that form.

WAQTUK looks to have improved this season, winning well over this 1600m in December, before finishing second in a Listed race over 1600m to a high-class rival that is set to contest the G1 Saudi Cup later on the card. A decent draw in gate six should allow experienced rider Alexis Moreno a good early position tracking the leaders and from there he should have every chance once into the home straight.

WEBINAR had the benefit of race fitness when defeating SCOTLAND YARD in December and also had the run of the race, while his rival had to make up plenty of ground from off the pace. WEBINAR hasn't been seen since then, but he is two from three since arriving in Saudi Arabia and has to be respected. He looks likely to go to the front again and could prove hard to pass in the straight.

Oisin Murphy partnered MICHAEL SCOFIELD to an impressive near 10-length success over this course in a domestic G2 race in December. He wasn't so good when finishing seventh, behind both WAQTUK and SCOTLAND YARD in the G3 The Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques Cup over 1800m on his last start. He did lead until midway down the home straight that day, though, only fading in the final 400m.

This trip might not suit HAVILDAR so well, having caught the eye finishing very strongly for second in a 2000m Listed race last month. That was a taking effort though and if this 6YO gets a strong pace to aim at he could well sneak into the places.

Snared this race last year and then wasn't seen again until December. Looks to be building back into form nicely and should be right amongst the finish again despite a wide gate.

Failed to beat a runner home last time out and wasn't much better the start before. Has won at the course and distance but would need to find some serious improvement to make an impact here.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

Japanese trainers have a strong hand in the G3 Saudi Derby. This 1600m dirt contest has gone to Japan three times in the last six years since the inaugural running in 2020.

SATONO VOYAGE looks the pick of their five runners this year. He has progressed into a smart performer and completed a hat-trick of wins with a very professional performance in the Cattleya Stakes at Tokyo Racecourse in November. That was his first try at 1600m and he saw out the distance well. Several of his rivals threw down challenges in the closing stages but he had far too much in hand and was well on top at the line. His uncomplicated way of racing will be an advantage.

BEST GREEN lost his unbeaten record when a close third in the Zen-Nippon Nisai Yushun over 1600m at Kawasaki Racecourse in December. There was certainly no disgrace in that effort, with the winner, PYROMANCER, being aimed at the UAE Derby. He had won all his previous four races and his victory in the 1700m Breeders' Gold Junior Cup at Monbetsu in August marks him down as a strong stayer. A wide draw looks the only real negative.

MY WORLD looks best of the four American challengers. Brad Cox's roan was very strong in the closing stages when landing the 1600m Jerome Stakes at Aqueduct in the US early last month. His proven stamina will be an asset but there's a fair chance this potential Kentucky Derby contender will be even better over longer distances.

Japanese filly TOKAI MA CHERIE has taken well to dirt racing. After winning once from three turf starts, she finished runner-up in the 1400m in the Edelweiss Sho at Monbetsu on her dirt debut. She stepped up on that effort when successful on her first try at 1400m in the Hyogo Junior Grand Prix at Sonoda. There was a lot to like about the way she finished her race and she looks to have plenty of class.

Sole British raider SHAYEM is an interesting runner. His only defeat in four races last year came when third in a Haydock Listed prize behind subsequent G2 Royal Lodge Stakes winner BOW ECHO and his pedigree offers hope that he will handle the dirt surface.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

Fast horses are what's needed to land the G2 Riyadh Dirt Sprint. The 1200m contest has seen some rapid performances in its short history, and we can expect the same in this edition. It looks competitive, with an international cast of sprinters representing Britain, Japan, the United States and the Middle East.

IMAGINATION might bring the best piece of form into this race. Bob Baffert's charge was last seen when second in the G1 Breeders' Cup Sprint over 1200m at Del Mar in November behind BENTORNATO, who himself had been second in the race the previous year. That is top-class form, with the world's best dirt sprinters taking each other on. Prior to that, IMAGINATION had put on a show to land the G2 Santa Anita Sprint Championship Stakes over 1200m in September 2025, defeating DR. VENKMAN, who was just behind Baffert's runner at Del Mar. If replicating either of those runs, he should be hard to beat.

Another who was behind IMAGINATION at Del Mar was LOVESICK BLUES. Librado Barocio's runner was held up that day and had terrible luck in running, which hindered his chances, as the winner and placed horses all raced more prominently. His previous run in G1 company had seen him land the prestigious G1 Bing Crosby Stakes over 1200m at Del Mar in July 2025, proving his quality at the highest level. This 8YO is said to be firing on all cylinders after a winter break and should be there at the finish.

Japanese runners always merit respect on the world stage, and AMERICAN STAGE certainly does. Yoshito Yahagi's 4YO was fourth in the aforementioned G1 Breeders' Cup Sprint in November behind IMAGINATION and ahead of LOVESICK BLUES. AMERICAN STAGE was disappointingly 11th on his most recent start at Nakayama over 1200m, but with strong sprinting form, such as his sixth in the G1 Golden Shaheen over 1200m at Meydan in April 2025, he can hit the frame.

One of the locally trained runners who demands respect is MUQTAHEM. Since finishing second in this last year, Abdullah Alsidrani's runner has put together a sequence of five straight victories in Saudi Arabia. He clearly operates well there, and while others might have stronger form, he can make his track experience pay.

JUST BEAT THE ODDS looks like a sprinter who's ready to take the step up to this level. Trained by Gregg Sacco in the United States, he won his first start in Graded company when scoring in the G3 Elite Power Stakes over 1200m at Aqueduct in December and looks set to challenge this international field.

Likely Positions After Settling

Pace: GOOD

ECHO POINT has speed and from the middle draw he can get to the rail first. JUST BEAT THE ODDS should come across from his wide draw and get outside the leader. SELF IMPROVEMENT should be able to get into the trail. AMERICAN STAGE will not be far away. GABBY'S SISTER may be trapped wide.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

LAZZAT appears to hold outstanding claims of returning to winning ways in the G2 1351 Turf Sprint over 1351m at Riyadh. The Jerome Reynier-trained 5YO demonstrated he was one of the leading sprinters in Europe last season, highlighted with victory in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II Jubilee Stakes over 1200m at Royal Ascot. While coming up short in three subsequent G1 starts, the TERRITORIES gelding faces what is likely to be a much less daunting task, eased slightly in class on his first start of the year with ground conditions that should hold no fears. Although he has been handed a wide draw in gate 12, he has proven form over a similar trip after winning the G1 Prix Maurice de Gheest over 1300m at Deauville in 2024.

Japanese trained horses are always to be feared at this meeting and PANJA TOWER appears to be the number one representative for his country in this race. The Shinsuke Hashiguchi-trained colt wasn't beaten far into fifth in the G1 Golden Eagle over 1500m at Randwick on his last start on soft conditions that wouldn't have suited him. He also has an outside draw (11) to contend with, but the quicker conditions will help his chances and Joao Moreira is an eye-catching jockey booking.

COMANCHE BRAVE is an interesting contender on his first start over a trip shorter than 1400m in 17 months. However, he arrives race fit after finishing a close up third in the Listed Abu Dhabi Gold Cup over 1600m seven days ago. It was only late on in that race that he faded away but, with that run behind him, he is likely to strip much fitter here and can figure prominently with his stamina assured.

MARVELMAN has a good draw to work from in gate 5 and he can make his presence felt over a trip which should be ideal. The 1600m in the G1 Queen Elizabeth II Stakes at Ascot just appeared to stretch his stamina last time having previously been a good winner of the G2 Park Stakes over 1405m at Doncaster. Provided he settles then he is likely to feature come the end of the race.

The 2024 winner of the race, ANNAF, might not be the force he once was, but he showed he still has enough quality to reach the frame judging by his win in the G3 Bengough Stakes over 1200m on his last start at Ascot in October.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The Neom Turf Cup is one of two G1s on the Saudi Cup card, and is a race open to 3YO's, run over the 2100m at Riyadh.

ROYAL CHAMPION looks the leading contender this year. The 8YO gelding stepped forward markedly in 2025 after joining the UK stable of Karl Burke. He was an impressive winner over this trip in July in the G2 York Stakes over 2051m, seeing off ALMAQAM who has high-class form behind the likes of CALANDAGAN and OMBUDSMAN. He showed no concerns with travelling to the Middle East when winning the G2 Bahrain International Trophy over 2000m most recently, running on from a disadvantageous position to see off the reopposing GALEN. Leading rider Oisin Murphy gets aboard, and he has very strong claims.

SHIN EMPEROR was a decisive winner of this race in 2025. Having the beating of CALIF and AL RIFFA in last year's renewal, the Japanese horse brings top-class international form to the table. His second-placed effort to DO DEUCE in the G1 Japan Cup over 2400m in 2024 is the outstanding piece of form in this race. However, he has lost his way slightly since his victory in the contest last year, but if a return to this venue sparks a resurgence, he's a danger to all.

GALEN is an intriguing runner for Irish trainer Joseph O'Brien. The 5YO continued to come up short in Group and Listed company last summer but has stepped forward over the winter. He was just picked up by ROYAL CHAMPION when running a mighty race in Bahrain, before running at Sha Tin in the G1 Hong Kong Cup over 2000m. Being beaten just over five lengths by ROMANTIC WARRIOR is no disgrace, and GALEN can pose a threat if allowed his own way at the front of the field here.

SURVIE is well prepared for this assignment. Victorious in a conditions event at Lingfield at the end of January, she delivered a ready victory on stable debut for George Boughey. Some of her previous French form reads well, including when second in last year's G1 Prix Jean Romanet over 2000m. As a mare, she'll be in receipt of a handy weight concession from most of the field and there's reason to believe she can step forward again under the services of top jockey Ryan Moore.

ALOHI ALII looked a high-class prospect for Hiroyasu Tanaka prior to a disappointing performance in the G1 Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe over 2400m. That run may be worth forgiving but he still has it to prove at this level at present.

Comes in off victory in a three-horse race on the Lingfield all-weather track and should take improvement from that outing. Light weight will help and looks a place chance.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The Red Sea Turf Handicap is a G2 contest on the Saudi Cup Day card, run over 3000m, making it a proper test for the stayers.

David O'Meara sends EPIC POET back for a second go at this race, after finishing runner-up last year, ahead of PRESAGE NOCTURNE, who was fourth and also returns. He has been a model of consistency, placing in four of his five runs since then, including a third in the G2 Dubai Gold Cup over 3200m and second in the G2 Yorkshire Cup Stakes over 2771m, beaten only a head by REBEL'S ROMANCE. Most recently he finished second in the G3 Al Khail Trophy over 2810m at Meydan and it could now be time for the 7YO to get his head in front, back at a track where he has shown good form in the past.

TENNESSEE STUD also features for Joseph O'Brien. Third in the 2025 Derby Stakes over 2405m, he is one of three 4YO's set to line-up. He hasn't been seen since landing the G2 Prix Chaudenay over 3000m in October. The step up in trip that day clearly suited, and he tackles the same distance here, which should play to his strengths. This is the first time his trainer has sent him to Saudi Arabia, so there is the question of how he handles the challenge.

PRESAGE NOCTURNE returns to Saudi Arabia for Alessandro Botti. The French-trained grey was fourth in the G1 Caulfield Cup over 2400m before failing to fire in the Melbourne Cup over 3200m, finishing well down the field. The 6YO has been freshened up since November and returns to the scene of a solid fourth in this race last year, when EPIC POET finished second.

Andrew Balding sends TARRIANCE, another of the 4YO's in the line-up. He's lightly raced but looks every inch a stayer with a bright future. He landed the Melrose Handicap at York over 2771m last August, his third win of his 3YO's campaign. While he finished last in the G1 St Leger over 2905m, the soft ground that day might not have suited him. He has since been gelded and makes his first start since. It will be interesting to see if he can carry his strong 3YO's form into a new season, and off bottom weight he warrants respect.

Japanese challenger STRUVE also takes his chance and runners from his country have a strong record in this race, winning three of the last four renewals. He looks the best of the two contenders from Japan and can't be ruled out.

Ran a bold fourth in the G1 Caulfield Cup (2400m) in October before finishing his Australian expedition with a disappointing 19th in the G1 Melbourne Cup (3200m). Has won at this trip, however, and can give a sight.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

On paper, this is probably the most one-sided edition of the G1 Saudi Cup over 1800m we've ever seen in the seven renewals.

FOREVER YOUNG returns to defend his crown and he's going to be a short price to successfully do so having added the G1 Breeders' Cup Classic over 2000m to his CV in November. In last year's race, he ran down Hong Kong great ROMANTIC WARRIOR in the final strides to score by a neck. With no ROMANTIC WARRIOR in the line-up this year, his task looks a little easier and he'll be hard to beat if reproducing that level of form. If he does become the first back-to-back winner of the world's richest race, he'll also be the only horse to have won three times at the Saudi Cup meeting, having previously won the G3 Saudi Derby over 1600m.

The main danger to his defence this year looks to be the Bob Baffert-trained NYSOS. He's a good American dirt horse with a high cruising speed who has won all bar one of his eight starts, with that only loss coming on a sloppy track over 1400m. It certainly won't be a sloppy track in Riyadh, so there's no worries there, and he has to be respected having won the G1 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile over 1600m last year. If there is a doubt, it might be about his stamina over this 1800m.

BISHOPS BAY could be a safer option over the trip. He's already been successful over this distance, having won the 1800m Overnight Stakes at Oaklawn Park last March, and has gone well over 1600m around one bend, so the track setup should suit. He was purchased by King Abdullah bin Abdulaziz and Sons for a staggering $1.3million just before winning the G2 Cigar Mile over 1600m, and this race will have always been the dream for his Saudi Royal connections.

Ryan Moore is an eye-catching booking for the Saudi-trained AMEERAT ALZAMAAN. While she's untested against international opposition and will have to raise her game to get involved here, she's been running very well domestically. She showed plenty of stamina to win the 2000m Prince Sultan Ben Abdulaziz Cup (Dom. G2) and looks like a horse who will appreciate a fast pace to run at.

TUMBARUMBA is the other one who could outrun his odds based on recent efforts. He showed a great attitude to stick on for second in the G1 Al Maktoum Challenge over 1900m last time out and could be staying on late again to pick up some prize money.

SELECTIONS: 3. FOREVER YOUNG, 2. BISHOPS BAY, 8. NYSOS, 14. AMEERAT ALZAMAAN & 13. TUMBARUMBA

 Likely Positions After Settling

Pace: GOOD

BISHOPS BAY likes to go forward and he can come across and get to the rail first. NYSOS also has speed and can get outside the leader. STAR OF WONDER can be positive and get into the trail. FOREVER YOUNG should have a good run one off the rail. SUNRISE ZIPANGU should be towards the rear.

Connections are aiming high with the Japanese four-year-old but his last-start 15th in the G1 Champions Cup over the dirt 1800m at Chukyo doesn't instill great confidence. Could place with improvement.

Edged stablemate Nevada Beach in a Santa Anita G2 last start and looms as Forever Young's biggest danger. Has won seven of eight career starts including the G1 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile (1600m) and deserves his spot here.

Track Analysis by Tim Carroll

King Abdulaziz Racecourse opened in 2003 with a 2000m dirt track. The races are run counter-clockwise (left-handed) with both the back and main straights being 400m in length. There is a 450m chute at the top right-hand side of the course, which is used for races from 1600m to 2000m. It tends to ride slow and horses can win from anywhere in evenly run races. It is widely regarded as one of the highest quality dirt surfaces in the world.

Inside the dirt track, there is a turf course which was installed in 2020 and is 1800m in length. It is 21m wide and has a similar homestretch as the dirt track. With the track being on the inside, it is smaller with tighter bends, thus it may be advantageous to draw low on pace runners, but all starting points have a reasonable run to the first bend.

This year, three turf races and four dirt races from the Saudi Cup Day will be simulcast to Hong Kong.

Feature Race

G1 Saudi Cup (1800m Dirt)

The feature race 1800m G1 Saudi Cup is the world's richest horse race at USD 20,000,000. Since the runners will break from half way of the chute, with a long run into the turn, barriers are not an issue. The homestretch is over 400m and there is little bias to running style or position.

Other Races

Listed Tuwaiq Cup (1800m Dirt)

The Listed Tuwaiq Cup is run over the same distance as the G1 Saudi Cup.

G3 Saudi Derby (1600m Dirt)

The G3 Saudi Derby is one of the dirt races running at 1600m. Runners jump from just inside the chute on the right-hand side of the track that joins the backstretch. They travel approximately 550m before they arrive at what is a long sweeping bend that eventually leads into the homestretch. Barriers are of no importance.

G2 Riyadh Dirt Sprint (1200m Dirt)

The G2 Riyadh Dirt Sprint is run at 1200m with a relatively short run into the turn. Horses who like to go forward would normally be best served drawn low to middle, but overall, thus far, the draw has been of little consequence.

G2 1351 Turf Sprint (1351m Turf)

The 1351m G2 1351 Turf Sprint starts on the backstretch at the end of the first turn giving the runners a nice long run to a sweeping bend that leads into the homestretch. Whilst barriers are of little importance, horses that like to go forward are better served with a low to middle draw.

G1 Neom Turf Cup (2100m Turf)

G1 Neom Turf Cup is run at 2100m around two turns. It starts 300m before the winning post before doing a lap of the track. Horses can win from anywhere, and whilst barriers are of little importance, horses that like to go forward are better served with a low to middle draw.

G2 Red Sea Turf Handicap (3000m Turf)

For the 3000m G2 Red Sea Turf Handicap, runners start on the far side in the backstretch and run approximately 200m to a sweeping bend that leads into the homestretch, before they then complete a full circuit after passing the winning post for the first time. Barriers are of no importance.

Jerry Chau ready for new frontier with Self Improvement in Saudi Arabia

Thursday, 12/2/2026

Jerry Chau is proud to represent Hong Kong, China, for a third time overseas when he debuts in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia aboard Self Improvement, the horse who gave the local ace his biggest success in the 2025 G3 Korea Sprint (1200m, sand) in Seoul, South Korea.

Chau said: "It's my honour to represent Hong Kong, China around the world. It's really helpful for me to gain more experience. I will give my all and put my heart into this trip.

"It was my first overseas win, not including my training in Australia. It was amazing, and the crowd was cheering for me. We beat the Japanese horse (Chikappa) – he's very good. We fought to the end. I am grateful – thank you to trainer Manfred Man and owner Mr Wong."

The pair will face menacing opposition this weekend for the first time from North America, traditionally where the world's best dirt horses hail from, including Bob Baffert's Imagination, as well as Group 1 winner Lovesick Blues, in Saturday night's (14 February) G2 Riyadh Dirt Sprint (1200m, dirt) at King Abdulaziz Racecourse in Riyadh.

Though revered for its turf heroes, Hong Kong racing has seen some of its finest moments come on alternate surfaces. Rich Tapestry stunned Goldencents in the 2014 G1 Santa Anita Sprint Championship (1200m, dirt); Sterling City captured the 2014 G1 Dubai Golden Shaheen (1200m, tapeta), while Super Jockey dominated the 2016 Korea Sprint, and although he narrowly missed, Romantic Warrior came second in the 2025 G1 Saudi Cup (1800m, dirt).

Man's Self Improvement became the latest to join the winners list in September, and campaigns to the Middle East as the second Hong Kong, China-trained horse to race in Saudi Arabia after Romantic Warrior, and he is again hoping to defy pre-race expectations following success as a 9/1 chance in South Korea over Chikappa, who placed 10th in the 2025 Riyadh Dirt Sprint before his second in last year's Korea Sprint.

Self Improvement is a six-year-old son of Deep Field. He made all in a trial on 29 January over 1200m on Sha Tin's dirt course in 1m 09.78s (24.2, 22.6, 22.9). The earner of HK$12 million is owned by Wong Chung Yin, Wong Lai Ngor and Wilson Wong.

"He looks like he is really ready for the race after his last trial. Hopefully, he runs well. He's improved a lot after winning in South Korea. He's more mature, but I think he loves to travel – he will enjoy the trip to Saudi Arabia," Chau said.

The Riyadh Dirt Sprint was inaugurated in 2020. It has been won by New York Central (2020), Copano Kicking (2021), Dancing Prince (2022), Elite Power (2023), Remake (2024) and Straight No Chaser (2025). Self Improvement steps from barrier eight in Saturday night's dash, which is carded as S2-3 and will be run at 10.40pm (HKT). The race forms part of a seven-race World Pool fixture.

Quality opposition collides in Riyadh Dirt Sprint against Self Improvement

Friday, 13/2/2026

Hong Kong, China's Self Improvement is one of 13 declared runners in Saturday's (14 February) hotly contested G2 Riyadh Dirt Sprint (1200m, dirt), where he'll face rivals from North America, Asia, Europe and the Middle East at King Abdulaziz Racecourse in Riyadh, all vying for a share of the US$2 million (approx. HK$15.63 million) purse.

Manfred Man, who trains Self Improvement and has arrived in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia to oversee the horse's preparation, said: "Because of the long-distance travel, his body weight dropped slightly after he arrived. But over the past few days his appetite has been good, and he has been eating normally.

"His condition has been progressing well. I feel the horse is in better condition now than when he was in South Korea, but rivals in the Riyadh Dirt Sprint are even stronger; we hope to deliver the best possible performance."

Jerry Chau, who reunites with Self Improvement in barrier eight after starring with a Happy Valley treble on Wednesday night (11 February), said: "It's the next step, and the competition will be stronger. Hopefully, he enjoys the track – that's the most important part for me and the horse."

Successful in September's G3 Korea Sprint (1200m, sand), Self Improvement's toughest assignment yet comes against form lines from November's Breeders' Cup fixture, led by the Riyadh Dirt Sprint's expected race favourite Imagination, trained by Bob Baffert, who enters off a second in the G1 Breeders' Cup Sprint (1200m, dirt) behind Bentornato.

Speaking to the Jockey Club of Saudi Arabia, Baffert said: "He is the kind of horse that takes off a little slow; it takes him a while to get going but the further the better. He should be very competitive. It's hard to know how the form will compare, but he's doing well."

Five-year-old Imagination has placed in three Group 1s. The 2024 G2 San Felipe Stakes (1700m, dirt) and 2025 G2 Santa Anita Sprint Championship (1200m, dirt) are his best wins.

Trained by Librado Barocio, eight-year-old Lovesick Blues captured a first elite-level win in the 2025 G1 Bing Crosby Stakes (1200m, dirt) at Del Mar last July. Following an unlucky sixth in the Breeders' Cup Sprint last start after rallying late from last position, the veteran grey galloper chases redemption this weekend.

Speaking to the Jockey Club of Saudi Arabia, Barocio said: "He got a really bad trip in the Breeders' Cup. He got squeezed and was left like 10 lengths behind, but then he started really closing. Unfortunately, then he couldn't find room. I'm ready to take on Imagination again, especially over this longer stretch. Once he gets into that stride and he gets going, he's so good."

Just Beat The Odds is also trained out of North America, and is a winner at Monmouth Park, Tampa Bay Downs and recently Aqueduct in New York, where he captured his biggest win to date in the 2025 G3 Elite Power Stakes (1200m, dirt) in December, for trainer Gregg Sacco.

Leading Saudi Arabia's charge is Muqtahem, who returns for this year's Riyadh Dirt Sprint after finishing second in the race last year behind North America's Straight No Chaser. Since then, the Abdullah Alsidrani-trained runner has dominated on home soil with five straight wins – most recently capturing the Prince Fahad Bin Jalawi Cup (1200m, dirt) by almost six lengths over Saturday night's course and distance.

Japan, which has won the Riyadh Dirt Sprint three times with Copano Kicking (2021), Dancing Prince (2022) and Remake (2024), field four this year: American Stage, Don Amitie, Yamanin Cerchi and Gabby's Sister, who links with four-time Hong Kong Champion Jockey (2014/15, 2015/16, 2016/17 & 2020/21) Joao Moreira and returns to the Middle East after a third in the 2025 Riyadh Dirt Sprint.

Trained by Yoshito Yahagi, the front-running American Stage finished fourth in the Breeders' Cup Sprint last November and is the third runner out of that race engaged in Saturday's Riyadh Dirt Sprint, which is carded as S2-3 and will be run at 10.40pm (HKT) as part of the seven-race World Pool fixture.

Forever Young looks for back-to-back G1 Saudi Cup victories in Riyadh

Friday, 13/2/2026

The indomitable Forever Young will look to land back-to-back victories in the US$20 million (approx. HK$156 million) G1 Saudi Cup (1800m) on the Riyadh dirt at 1.40am (Hong Kong time) on Sunday (15 February).

Forever Young landed gate six at Wednesday night's (11 February) barrier draw, an alley trainer Yoshito Yahagi called "a good number" for the King Abdulaziz Racecourse.

"We don't have to change anything with tactics. Honestly, I feel a lot of pressure on my shoulders bringing a defending champion, but Forever Young doesn't feel any pressure at all," he said.

While there is no Romantic Warrior this year and Forever Young's main opposition looks to come from the American contingent, Yahagi still felt compelled to reflect on the great battle of 12 months ago that saw the Japanese giant repel the Hong Kong champion by a narrow margin in an absolute epic.

"I didn't think he would be beaten by any horse," Yahagi said. "But I wasn't completely sure about Romantic Warrior, as it was his first time racing on dirt. If Forever Young was going to be beaten, it had to be by Romantic Warrior.

"It was unbelievable. To be honest, I thought we had been beaten at the finish. It was a great race."

Forever Young was last seen scooping the G1 Breeders' Cup Classic (2000m, dirt) at Del Mar in November and he has had a longer time between runs in the lead-up to this year's Saudi Cup compared to 2025.

"He skipped the Tokyo Daishoten (G1, 2000m, dirt) after the Breeders' Cup," Yahagi said, referring to the race Forever Young won before surging to Saudi Cup victory a year ago.

"He was carrying a little extra weight at first, but he has been improving steadily. The anti-clockwise track and the long home straight really suit him in Saudi."

Bob Baffert-trained pair Nysos and Nevada Beach are among Forever Young's main rivals, with the former hit with gate 12 while the latter has alley seven.

"I'd rather be on the outside than the inside," Baffert said about Nysos.

"As long as the horse shows up, that is more important. I think he is a really good horse and has always shown brilliance. He's a trier and knows where the wire is. From the outside he will have a clear run."

Elsewhere on the biggest night in Saudi racing, Self Improvement will chase more overseas success in the G2 Riyadh Dirt Sprint (1200m, dirt).

Victorious in September's G3 Korea Sprint (1200m) on sand, Manfred Man's Self Improvement faces a tougher task in Riyadh.

"The horse is good, everything is fine, he was moving very well and he satisfied me," Man said. "The race is quite strong and stronger than Seoul but all we can do is try our best. It is exciting as it is our first time in a Saudi Cup race.

"This is a great racecourse and we've come here to try the race, and feel very happy to represent Hong Kong, China. It is hard to say he has a good chance but I hope he will come quite close and we will try our best."

Saudi Cup is carded as S2-7 and will be run at 1.40am (Hong Kong time) on Sunday, 15 February. The Riyadh Dirt Sprint is carded as S2-3 and will be run at 10.40pm (Hong Kong time) on Saturday, 14 February.
