Overseas Expert Column by Naohiro Goda

Sunday Racing Club, which owns CROIX DU NORD, announced on 8th April that the next start for the 4YO colt by KITASAN BLACK would be G1 Tenno Sho Spring at Kyoto on 3rd May. The announcement was made three days after he won G1 Osaka Hai at Hanshin, which was the third G1 win for the colt, who had won G1 Hopeful Stakes in December 2024 and G1 Japanese Derby in June 2025. To be frankly, it was a surprising decision for me, as I thought it did not add any more value on him as the future stallion, even if CROIX DU NORD would win the 2 miles' race. However, thinking about it again, I am convinced this decision should make sense. First of all, he is by KITASAN BLACK, who is winner of Tenno Sho Spring in 2016 and 2017, and he is out of RISING CROSS, who won G2 Park Hill Stakes over 13 furlongs and 197 yards at York, and finished second in G1 Oaks over 12 furlongs and 6 yards at sticky Epsom. Pedigree suggests CROIX DU NORD should stay further than mile and half. And total purse of Tenno Sho Spring is 651,000,000yen, approximately HK$32 million, which is attractive enough. CROIX DU NORD came out of the last race well and has been trained beautifully at Ritto Training Center in recent weeks. I believe he is ready to run his race on Sunday.

My second choice is ADMIRE TERRA, who suddenly became world-famous on 30th November 2025, when he finished first, in front of CALANDAGAN and MASQUERADE BALL, in G1 Japan Cup, without a rider, whom he lost immediately after the break. He proved himself as a very good horse with a jockey in the irons, when ADMIRE TERRA won G2 Hanshin Daishoten at Hanshin on 22nd March by 3 lengths. Another factor is Yutaka Take, the winning most jockey of Tenno Sho Spring, which he has won 8 times, and it is encourage factor that he is booked for ADMIRE TERRA on Sunday.

My third choice is REDENTOR, who tries to achieve back-to-back wins of Tenno Sho Spring. Although he was beaten eighth in G2 Kyoto Kinen at Kyoto on 15th February, it was first start for him since May 2025 and I am sure he needed the race. He has been trained much better in the morning at Miho Training Center since the last start, and I believe he will finish within first 3 on Sunday.

My fourth choice is AQUA VERNAL, who was runner-up to ADMIRE TERRA in G2 Hanshin Daishoten. She has started at Kyoto for 5 times, won 2 of them, and finished second for 3 times. It is obvious that Kyoto is her favorite track.

My fifth choice is SHIN EMPEROR. Though he has not run the race beyond 2500m, his pedigree suggests he stays 2 miles.

SUNRISE SOLEIL has early speed and he can lead from his good draw. MYSTERY WAY may press on from his outside draw and get outside the leader. AQUA VERNAL and ECHT like to go forward and they will not be far away. CROIX DU NORD and SHIN EMPEROR should settle midfield.

Croix du Nord bids for fourth Group 1 triumph in Tenno Sho Spring

Friday, 1/5/2026

Back in peak form after a testing autumn campaign, Croix du Nord will attempt to emulate the feats of his sire Kitasan Black when he contests the JPY651 million (approx. HK$31.9 million) G1 Tenno Sho Spring (3200m) at Kyoto Racecourse in Japan on Sunday (3 May).

A giant on the Japanese racing and breeding landscape, Kitasan Black won the Tenno Sho Spring in 2016 and 2017 – with his second victory in the staying showpiece following success in the G1 Osaka Hai (2000m).

Winner of the 2025 G1 Tokyo Yushun (Japanese Derby, 2400m), Croix du Nord returned to the winners' stall with an impressive triumph in the 2026 Osaka Hai at Hanshin and now has the chance to match the accomplishment of Kitasan Black by completing the Osaka Hai-Tenno Sho Spring double in the same season.

With three Group 1 titles to his credit, Croix du Nord impressed trainer Takashi Saito when working over 1200m in 1m 22.2s (36.4s and 11.1s for final 600m and 200m) on the Ritto woodchip course on 22 April.

"Because we let him take it a little easy, there was a point where he got a bit too relaxed mentally, so we took him around the outside and asked him properly. He was a touch sluggish at one stage, but after that he moved well. I think this will bring him on," said Saito, as his star charge prepares to venture beyond 2400m for the first time.

"Lately he can take hold a little before the first turn, so if he can settle into a smooth rhythm, that's what I'd like to see."

Facing 14 rivals on Sunday, Croix du Nord is expected to be tested most seriously by last year's Tenno Sho Spring victor Redentor and rising star Admire Terra.

Redentor stormed to victory last season under Damian Lane but will be partnered by Christophe Lemaire this weekend, who is seeking his fourth win in the race after victories aboard Fierement (2019 & 2020) and Justin Palace (2023).

Sidelined with a leg fracture after his Tenno Sho Spring triumph a year ago, Redentor resumed in February and finished eighth in G2 Kyoto Kinen (2200m) behind June Take, who finished a six-length eighth in the HK$30 million G1 FWD QEII Cup (2000m) to Romantic Warrior at Sha Tin last Sunday (26 April).

Admire Terra will bid for a maiden Group 1 after record-breaking success in the G2 Hanshin Daishoten (3000m) at Hanshin on 22 March. Clocking 3m 02.00s, the grey thumped Aqua Vernal – who reopposes on Sunday – by three lengths to underline his rich potential.

"As a 'prep' race, it was a perfect 100 out of 100," trainer Yasuo Tomomichi said.
"His races last autumn were a little disjointed, but I still felt he was improving. His work has actually been better this time. He looks stronger physically, and the depth through his chest tells you his heart and lung capacity are very high."

Other leading contenders include Aqua Vernal and Tagano Dude.

The G1 Tenno Sho Spring (3200m) is carded as S3-1 and will be run at 2.40pm (Hong Kong Time) on Sunday, 3 May.

Overseas Expert Column by Bill Esdaile

The fillies take centre-stage in the 1000 Guineas at Newmarket, run over 1600m on the Rowley Mile.

This year's renewal looks competitive with several leading contenders bringing strong juvenile form into the race. Aidan O'Brien has a strong hand in the contest, and his TRUE LOVE looks his standout contender. She was a prolific 2YO, landing the G1 Cheveley Park Stakes over 1200m at Newmarket as well as the G2 Railway Stakes (1200m) at the Curragh and G2 Queen Mary Stakes (1000m) at Royal Ascot. She returned this season with a win in the G3 Ballylinch Stud Priory Belle Stakes over 1400m, which showed she's trained on as a 3YO. She shaped as though the step up to a mile will suit and she's a major player.

PRECISE is another G1 winner trained by Aidan O'Brien, and again, she was exceptional as a juvenile. She won both the G1 Moyglare Stud Stakes (1400m) at the Curragh in September, where she beat fellow contender VENETIAN SUN, and then the G1 Fillies' Mile (1600m) over this course and distance in October. Although Aidan O'Brien has not won this race since 2021, he certainly has a team capable of putting that right.

French challenger MY HIGHNESS adds further intrigue for the Andre Fabre yard, arriving off a solid prep run in the G3 Prix Imprudence at Deauville over 1400m. She progressed into a G2 winner as a juvenile, landing the Prix du Calvados (1400m) at Deauville, and with Oisin Murphy booked, she commands serious respect.

VENETIAN SUN, trained by Karl Burke, was a standout juvenile winning her first 4 starts, notably defeating Ballydoyle star's GSTAAD in the G1 Prix Morny (1200m) at Deauville. She found PRECISE too strong in the G1 Moyglare Stud Stakes (1400m) and there is also the question of whether she will fully see out the mile, though her trainer remains confident based on recent work.

ROSE GHAIYYATH is another who appeals as a potential improver after making a striking debut at Deauville before running with credit in the G2 May Hill Stakes (1600m) at Doncaster. She finished strongly there despite showing inexperience and that form has worked out well, suggesting she could be underestimated in this company.

In this big field VENETIAN LACE should take the lead. TRUE LOVE will not be far away. VENETIAN SUN and PRECISE should settle midfield near the far side. MY HIGHNESS may choose to take some cover.

Good efforts on all three starts last year but the figures suggest that she is on an upward curve in 2026, finishing a close fourth in a 1400m Newmarket G3 and giving the impression that she will be sharper for that.

Had quite a busy first season closing it down on a career high when second – though well held by Precise – in a G1 over this C&D. Worth a crack at this but an unlikely winner.

Enjoyed a terrific 2-y-o season including a 1200m G1 success against the colts at Deauville. Has won on fast ground but slower may be ideal plus needs to prove herself at 1600m. She has an excellent temperament.

Track Analysis by Tim Carroll

Newmarket, which is known as the headquarters of British horse racing and apart from the first two Classic of the season, it also stages other important races, such as Falmouth Stakes, July Cup, Craven Stakes, Cambridgeshire Stakes and Dewhurst Stakes.

Newmarket consists of the two racecourses, The July course, and the Rowley Mile. The Rowley Mile, which is the course that stages the 1000 Guineas, is in the shape of a right-handed turning dogleg, stretching over 4000m, with a straight of 2000m, which is the longest in Britain.

It is a wide-open track, fair in nature, encouraging strongly run races, with minor undulations 400m from the finish. They run downhill from the 400m to the 200m, before reaching what is known as the 'dip', this is a spot where horses can become unbalanced, thus riders need to be careful. They then face a challenging uphill finish over the final 200m, which has seen plenty caught in the closing stages.

Over the straight course of Rowley Mile Course, there can be a draw bias, more so in larger fields, but not so much in smaller fields where they tend to bunch down the centre of the track. The draw bias in larger fields is hard to predict, especially given that the rails are constantly moved due to the amount of racing, thus it is difficult to be conclusive about any overall bias, but if they do split, it is considered beneficial if riders can be part of the group that sets the pace.

In the 1600m races, the barriers will be placed according to field size and rail positioning. They jump and travel on what is mostly a flat straight course, before arriving at the undulations and the downhill run 400m from home. They then hit the 'dip' before an uphill run to the finish.

The Prettiest Star could be the answer to wide-open 1000 Guineas at Newmarket

Saturday, 2/5/2026

Much of the cream of 1600m three-year-old European-trained fillies will clash in the G1 1000 Guineas over the Rowley Mile (1600m) at Newmarket on Sunday (3 May).

With 19 runners declared, it looks wide-open for a Group 1 Classic that has quite often been won by contenders arriving with a lesser profile, evidenced by the fact that last year's winner Desert Flower was the first favourite to grab the glory since 2016.

Kieran Shoemark's mount The Prettiest Star falls that category, but her trainer Ed Walker has made a flying start to the season and is bullish about the chances of this daughter of Starman who is providing the emerging horseman with his first ever runner in this Classic.

She was the runaway winner of a Nottingham maiden at her first start before responding to a sharp class rise when close to a Group 2 triumph in the Rockfel Stakes over 1400m here last September.

Walker – who enjoyed another career-best season in 2025 with 68 winners - says: "I am full of hope for her. She is very smart, her preparation has gone exactly as planned and she has been training really well. We are lucky to have some very good three-year-old fillies at home, but she is exceptional."

Another filly who is short of experience and won't be at the top of the betting market but who has bags of potential is William Buick's mount Abashiri, a beautifully-bred Charlie Appleby-trained daughter of Frankel. She could hardly have been more impressive when romping clear over this trip at Kempton in November.

Other under-the-radar contenders who have more experience on their side than that pair are Touleen (Saffie Osborne) and Timeforshowcasing (Silvestre de Sousa).

The latter- from a stable who had a big-priced winner here on Friday - proved herself over this trip as well as her three-year-old credentials when delivering a 25-1 surprise win with a courageous display in a Listed event (1605m) at Newcastle last month.

Trainer Charlie Johnston says: "We'd made some ambitious entries for her including this, and that Newcastle win shows that she warrants those. She has a bit to find with the principals on Sunday, but she is straightforward with a great mentality."

The principals that Johnston is referring to would be Aidan O'Brien trained pair Precise (Ryan Moore) and True Love (Wayne Lordan) along with Karl Burke-trained Venetian Sun (Clifford Lee).

All three fillies were G1 winners in 2025 and in the case of Precise a dual G1 winner, with a stylish exhibition in the Fillies Mile over this course and distance.

Andre Fabre, who won this race with Miss France in 2014, is represented by three-times winner My Highness (Oisin Murphy).

The G1 1000 Guineas (1600m) is carded as S4-1 and will be run at 10.35pm (Hong Kong time) on Sunday (3 May).
